Showers Predicted

Washington, July 6 —Relief from the heat demon was predicted by the weather bureau today

According to the forecasters, showers and lower temperatures are due in the Atlantic states, gulf states, the Middle West and the lowe lake region within the next twenty-four to thirty six hours High temperatures will probably prevail tonight in the Ohio valley part of the lake region and in a few of the North Atlantic states but there is indication of a drop in the mercury tomorrow

Big Death Roll

Chicago July 6 —The backbone of the severest heat spell the Middle West has ever experienced was broken early today by cooling showers and life-giving breezes with indications that beginning tonight or Friday a moderate cool wave will set in which would give relief to the parched district

It is conservatively estimated that the intense heat of the past week, the most intense in the forty-one year history of the United States weather bureau, claimed over 700 human lives and was a primary cause in the death of thousands of infants and aged person

A great ice famine which was just beginning to make itself apparent throughout his city has been prevented Growing crops, which were also rescued in the fields have been saved As a result of the rains and cool weather corn which was declared already ruined in the Chicago board of trade from 4½ to 4¾ cents a bushel this morning dropped from 1¼ to 1½ cents with a prospect for further decline during the day Soaking rains are reported throughout Iowa Nebraska Wisconsin Illinois Michigan Missouri and the other central western states

In Chicago the temperature was twelve fifteen degrees lower than the average hours yesterday and all the night throughout the Central West enjoyed equal relief

In Chicago Coroner Hoffman reported that 1 6 deaths had occurred since Friday directly due to the heat

The forecast for this section is for cloudy and cooler weather tonight with possible thunder storms

Conditions in Gotham

New York, July 6 —Although the temperature at 10 o clock today was one degree higher than yesterday, eighty-four, a stiff breeze blew in from the southeast and brought the first appreciable relief from the hot wave since Sunday morning The humidity was also much lower and the city seemed to freshen up a bit under the improved conditions

The total number of heat deaths in Greater New York to date is 110

Eight deaths were reported today up to noon

In Hoosier State

Indianapolis, July 6 —Twenty

JAIL DELIVERY IS FRUSTRATED

Woman Figures in Attempted Escape.

COOK COUNTY JAIL SCENE OF BATTLE

Deputies Cow Prisoners in the Hospital.

Men Who Would Escape by Aid of a Friendly Woman Bind and Gag Night Nurse in Hospital, but Being Week from Illness, They Give Up Task Until Tonight—Nurse, Free, Then Tells of Plot.

Chicago July 6 —A dozen deputies with drawn revolvers today frustrated a daring attempt to escape from the Cook county jail an escape which in many of its features equaled the famous flight of the Biddle brothers

William J Quirk who murdered his wife and mother-in law, and was seriously shot in a battle with the police Joseph Kandiba who murdered his wife and Benjamin Moncuse a burglar who was shot in a fight while defying arrest were the three principals in the attempt All were confined in the jail hospital

Late yesterday a woman called upon Kandiba and succeeded in passing to him a magazine pistol fifty cartridges and a dozen fine saws

Kandiba confided his plans to Quirk and Moncuse The three desperadoes tore their blankets into strips and when Harry Russel the night nurse entered the jail hospital last night Kandiba called him to his bed As Russel approached Kandiba covered him

Nurse Is Gagged

The three wounded prisoners bound and gagged the nurse and threw him onto the bed All night long the desperate men though weak from their own wounds worked with feverish haste at the bars Half a block away a racing automobile with its engine chugging waited for them while the woman from a seat in the car constantly waved them encouragement

The task proved too great for the wounded men Today when the time came for the nurses to change they were not through the bars They released Russel threatening to kill him if he told of the attempt intending to complete the work tonight

Russel immediately reported to Jailer Davies A dozen deputies with drawn revolvers cowed the men in the hospital while Davies searched for and found the pistol and saws The prisoners were placed in solitary confinement in cells

Cavalry Called Out

Amsterdam, July 6 —Turbulence and disorder continued along the water front today among the striking sailors So serious became the rioting last night that cavalry was called out to reinforce the police The rioters used knives

FAIR TRIAL FOR THE SMITH LAW

It Is Urged by the State Tax Commission.

CERTAIN OFFICIALS MAY LOSE HEADS

Boards of Review Must Cooperate with State.

If Boards of Review Do Not Perform Duties as Required by Law, the Office Will Be Forfeited—State Commission Sees Politics Behind Effort To Discredit and Declare Smith Law Unworkable.

Columbus, O June 6 —Word comes from the state tax commission that scores of members of boards of review throughout the state will lose their official heads if they don t cooperate with the commission to make the new Smith one per cent tax limit law a success

It is pointed out, today, that the new law gives boards of review power to summon any citizen before it, and, under oath, ask him why he didn t return for taxation his automobile, his money in bank his building & loan shares, his wife's diamonds, etc

If the board of review doesn t perform this function, it is subject to forfeiture of office And the tax commission, it is said, is going to keep after the boards

The tax commission is convinced that there is politics behind the effort to discredit and declare unworkable the new Smith law before it has been given a thorough trial. One of the most vigorous kicks has come from Marion

The commission has discovered that many tax assessors, instead of listing all personal property at 100 cents on the dollar, have followed the old method of putting some of it down at a mere fraction of its value and permitting the rest to escape altogether

May Lose Jobs

Boards of reviews must either correct these shortcomings on the part of the assessors or lose their own jobs

Cincinnati is going to feel the commission s authority, because the commission does not think that city has tried very hard to make the Smith law a success Down town property assessments are satisfactory, but it is said that residence property will be raised materially by order of the commission, especially valuation of buildings

In addition, not a single taxing district in the state knows what valuations it will receive on public utilities The state tax commission fixes all these values and there will be enormous increases over former valuations because this year all public utilities must pay on a basis of 100 cents on the dollar, the same as the home owner

It is declared that the statements that the Smith law won't work are based only on half-information and are made at a time when the boards of review have not even begun their work of investigating the truth of the personal property returns

STRANGER ROBBED AND MURDERED

Body Is Found at Hudson at Early Hour Today

Hudson O July 6 —The body of a well dressed stranger, who had been murdered and robbed, was found today, near the Pennsylvania lines freight house in Hudson The manner of the crime and the man s identity are complete mysteries

The corpse was discovered about 4 a m Marshall George Gannon, who was notified, found that the victims pockets had been rifled and turned inside out, his pocketbook lay empty beside him, nearby was a club and a smashed bottle all around were signs of a scuffle

As far as Marshal G nnon could learn, today, the man had never been seen previously in Hudson The marshal at first held a theory that the stranger was robbed and hurled from a train but he conditions around the body contradicted this supposition

GOLDEN RULE IN STEEL BUSINESS

Big Trust Will Apply the Bible's Policy.

COMMITTEE WILL DRAW UP PLANS

The Matter Is Promulgated at Brussels Meeting.

Application of "Golden Rule" Is to Consist in Control of World's Output of Iron and Steel, Regulation of Prices and Division of Territory Among Steel Interests of Different Countries.

Brussels, July 6 —A world wide steel trust, technically to be known as the International Steel & Iron institute, with the golden rule as a working policy took definite shape today, at the opening of the second day s session of the steel congress A committee was appointed to draw up a plan for the organization of the big steel interests of the world represented by 160 delegates as suggested by Judge E H Gary of the United States Steel corporation

The American steel magnates headed by Gary who is presiding again took a prominent part in the discussion today

The European delegates have taken up the plan with much enthusiasm All credit is given to Judge Gary, who conceived the idea, and there is talk of making him the head of what would be the biggest trust in the world

Among those who will serve on the committee that is to draw up the plan of organization are Baron Von Bodenmausen, representing the great Krupp works of Germany M Witmeur, the Russian steel and iron magnate, and Charles M Schwab of the Bethlehem steel works and M Greiner, the steel king of Belgium

Judge Gary today reiterated his statement that the purpose of the organization was to apply the golden rule in the world s steel business

The application of the golden rule is to consist in the control of the world s output of iron and steel, the regulation of prices, division of territory among the steel interests of the different countries and the elimination of ruinous competition

The American committeemen are Judge E H Gary chairman and James A Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation E A S Clarke president of the Lackawanna Steel company Willis L King, vice president of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company and Charles M Schwab president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation

The committee met and organized, electing Judge Gary chairman and W B Post, of England secretary, and adjourned

After the general conference adjourned, the delegates were received by King Albert and afterwards visited the battlefield of Waterloo

Gary expressed himself as highly pleased with the results of the conference

A REAL MONEY TRUST SCENTED

Gotham Bankers To "Skim Cream Off" Business.

NATIONAL CITY BANK LEADS IN ENTERPRISE

Standard Oil Joins in Scheme of Financiers.

Wall Street Today Clears Up Mystery of the $10,000,000 National City Company Which Will Occupy a Distinct Field in the "World of Finance"—What New Organization Will Do Is Outlined

New York, July 6 —Handicapped by the national banking laws which limit the activities of national banks and prohibit the making of certain classes of investments the directors of the National City bank, the famous Standard Oil financial Gibraltar are going into business for themselves to skim the cream off of the business of the country

Wall street today cleared up the mystery surrounding the recently-organized $10 000 000 National City company It will well posted financiers declare occupy a distinct field in the world of finance and will come closer to becoming a real money trust than anything previously conceived by the big interests

The national banking laws prohibit and the courts of the country generally have ruled against operations in miscellaneous stocks by national banks and they have ruled specifically against the acquisition and holdings by one national bank of stock in another national bank To get around this the National City company has been organized It is to be under the absolute and perpetual control of three trustees who must be officers or directors of the National City bank The present trustees are James Stillman chairman of the National City board Frank A Vanderlip its president, and Stephen S Palmer a director

The new concern will immediately take over a good part of the bank stocks now held by the National City and much of its bonds and stocks These can then be manipulated and dealt in when market is favorable without any awkward interference by the national bank officials

The Chief Field

The chief field of the new concern will be financing new enterprises and extending aid to those already organized Fearing no interference from Washington the National City company will furnish needed funds to the large railroad and industrial enterprises and thus be able to dominate them It will also be possible for the company to prevent the building of railroads or the formation of companies which are not sure to be revenue producers as it will be able to prevent other capitalists extending the aid which it refuses

Wall street also pointed out today that the new company may go a step further and prevent the building of new railroads, or the establishment of competing industrial concerns that might 'cut down the dividends of existing corporations

That the persons connected with the organization of the new company feel sure of their ground, is shown by the bold explanation given for the organization of the corporation It says

"The new company is formed for the purpose in part of transacting for its patrons certain lines of profitable business which though often transacted by bankers are not expressly included within the corporate powers of national banks Among these are the acquiring and holding of real estate securities stocks and other properties

WOMAN MURDERER IS FREED BY COURT

Parallel Case with That of Mrs Napolitano Is Seen

Leadville Col July 6 —While Mrs Angelina Napolitano of Sault Ste Marie, Ontario waits but for the birth of her unborn babe to die on the gallows for the murder of her brutal husband, Mrs Assunta Capra herself an Italian woman has gone forth free into the world herself to become the mother of a babe whose brutal father she killed The murders were practically identical

When Mrs Capra s case was called today, District Attorney Hogan informed the court that he had dismissed it and the woman was set at liberty

Hogan took his action at he insistent demand of thousands of women who had interested themselves in the woman's behalf

Like Mrs Napolitano Mrs Capra is about to become a mother She slew her husband six weeks ago Capra was a round house employe and drunk continually His affections for his young wife waned

Mrs Capra eked out a miserable livelihood by selling bread On the Sunday preceding the killing, Capra quarreled with his wife and threatened to send her back to the home of her parents in Wisconsin He threatened, too, to kill her

Sunday night, Capra came home drunk, exactly as Napolitano had done Monday morning, after a border had left the house, Mrs Capra secured an axe, as Angelina Napolitano had done, and, creeping to her husband's room, brained him

MEDICAL SOCIETY OUSTS PROFESSOR

Mental Healing Doesn't Work on Insane Patients

Chicago, July 6 —Henry a Goetz, professor of hypnotism, mesmerism and mental healing, who received a special commission to conduct a series of experiments on insane wards of the county, and who yesterday was dismissed from his job, declared today the "superstitious fear which caused his dismissal was the cause of the death, 192 years ago, in Salem, Massachusetts, of witches'

The Chicago Medical society was instrumental in bringing about the dismissal, declaring the helpless insane were not fit subjects for mental experiments

However Goetz was not dismissed until he had spent three weeks in the county asylum treating thirteen patients The climax came when it is said, he threw a woman patient into a sleep from which it took him two days to awaken her

Goetz declared today he had originally been a manufacturer at New Albany Indiana, and had financed a hospital there He said he had long felt his latent powers of hypnotic suggestion Then seeing wider fields to conquer he came to Chicago and managed to get on the medical board at Dunning from which he has just been ousted

MAINE'S SECRET WILL NEVER BE REVEALED

Bixby So Declares After Inspecting the Wreck

Washington July 6 —The cause of the explosion of the magazines of the United States battleship Maine while in Havana harbor in 1898, will always remain a secret according to Brigadier General Bixby chief of engineers United States army He has just returned from inspecting the work of raising the wreck

General Bixby however after examination of the torn and twisted hull does not differ with the naval committee of investigation which held that the Maine was destroyed by an interior explosion in the forward magazines This explosion said the court was believed due to the explosion of a torpedo or submarine mine on side the vessel

General Bixby said the condition of the wreck will prevent the discovery of the primary cause

May Name Wirmel

Columbus O July 6 Men who are close to Governor Harmon are saying that he is going to appoint State Labor Commissioner Charles Wirmel of Cincinnati to one of the three $6 000 places on the life board of awards which will manage all matters connected with the state compensation fund

PRETTY WOMEN HIS DOWNFALL

Fangs of Fast Living Strike Young Lieutenant.

GOTHAM POLICE HOLD HIM FOR BURGLARIES

Prisoner Confesses and Declares He Is Glad.

Young Norwegian Soldier, Son of a Banker of Christiania, Decides To Become a "Gentleman Burglar" When Pay as Bank Clerk Will Not Permit His Entertaining New York Women as He Desires.

New York July 6 —The old old story of how the fangs of fast living will strike the best of men, was retold in the Adams Street police station today, when Karl Von Metz Meyer a lieutenant in the Norwegian army was held for further examination on a charge of wholesale burglary

Meyer is a graduate of Heidelberg and of the Norway Military college He speaks five languages and says he is the son of Ludwig Metz Meyer, an international banker of Christiania

Twenty four years old, handsome and stalwart he freely confessed in his cell to the robbery of at least eighteen houses in the fashionable heights section of Brooklyn, "just to get funds to keep up my scale of living '

Twenty-five pawn tickets, aggregating $5 000 were found in his apartments, and the police estimate his total thefts at $15,000 Most of the proceeds, Meyer says, was spent on pretty women

'They are the one thing that fascinates me in this country," Meyer said

Proof of the prisoner's standing as a "ladies'" man was found in nearly 500 letters discovered in his room from women all over the country Among them was one from a girl who signed herself "Myna " written in Harrison, Maine It was addressed to "My Big Boy Karl," and implored Meyer to give up his work in New York and join her

Becomes a Burglar.

Meyer has been in this country two years, coming on a three years' furlough from the army He says he struggled along as a bank clerk and express company employe, eking out his existence with what he got from home Finally, wearying of this, he decided to become a 'gentleman burglar' and started his Raffles career last April

Meyer never carried a revolver or jimmy There was no need of a jimmy, he explained, as Brooklyn houses are easy to enter

The police first suspected Meyer ten days ago but they could get no evidence against him Finally, two officers broke into his room and accused Meyer of burglary

With a sigh of relief, the young lieutenant confessed everything

'I m mighty glad you fellows have me Meyer told the officers I knew I was under suspicion and would be caught sooner or later, and you don t know the relief my arrest causes All this is my own work and I don t want any of my friends or members of my family to try to save me To be game now is the least thing I can do"

Meyer will probably be formally arraigned within a few days

ENGLAND SEEKS AMERICA'S HELP

British Do Not Fancy German Ships at Agadir

London July 6 —England disapproves of the presence of German warships at Agadir on the southwestern coast of Morocco and the British ambassador at Berlin has so informed the German government, according to reports current in London

England is most anxious to enlist American cooperation in the Moroccan situation

Agadir where Germany has sent its warships is nearer most of South America than are the main United States ports says the Daily Telegraph With the opening of the Panama canal, Germany s possession of a naval base on the Moroccan coast would be a fact distinctly affecting American interests

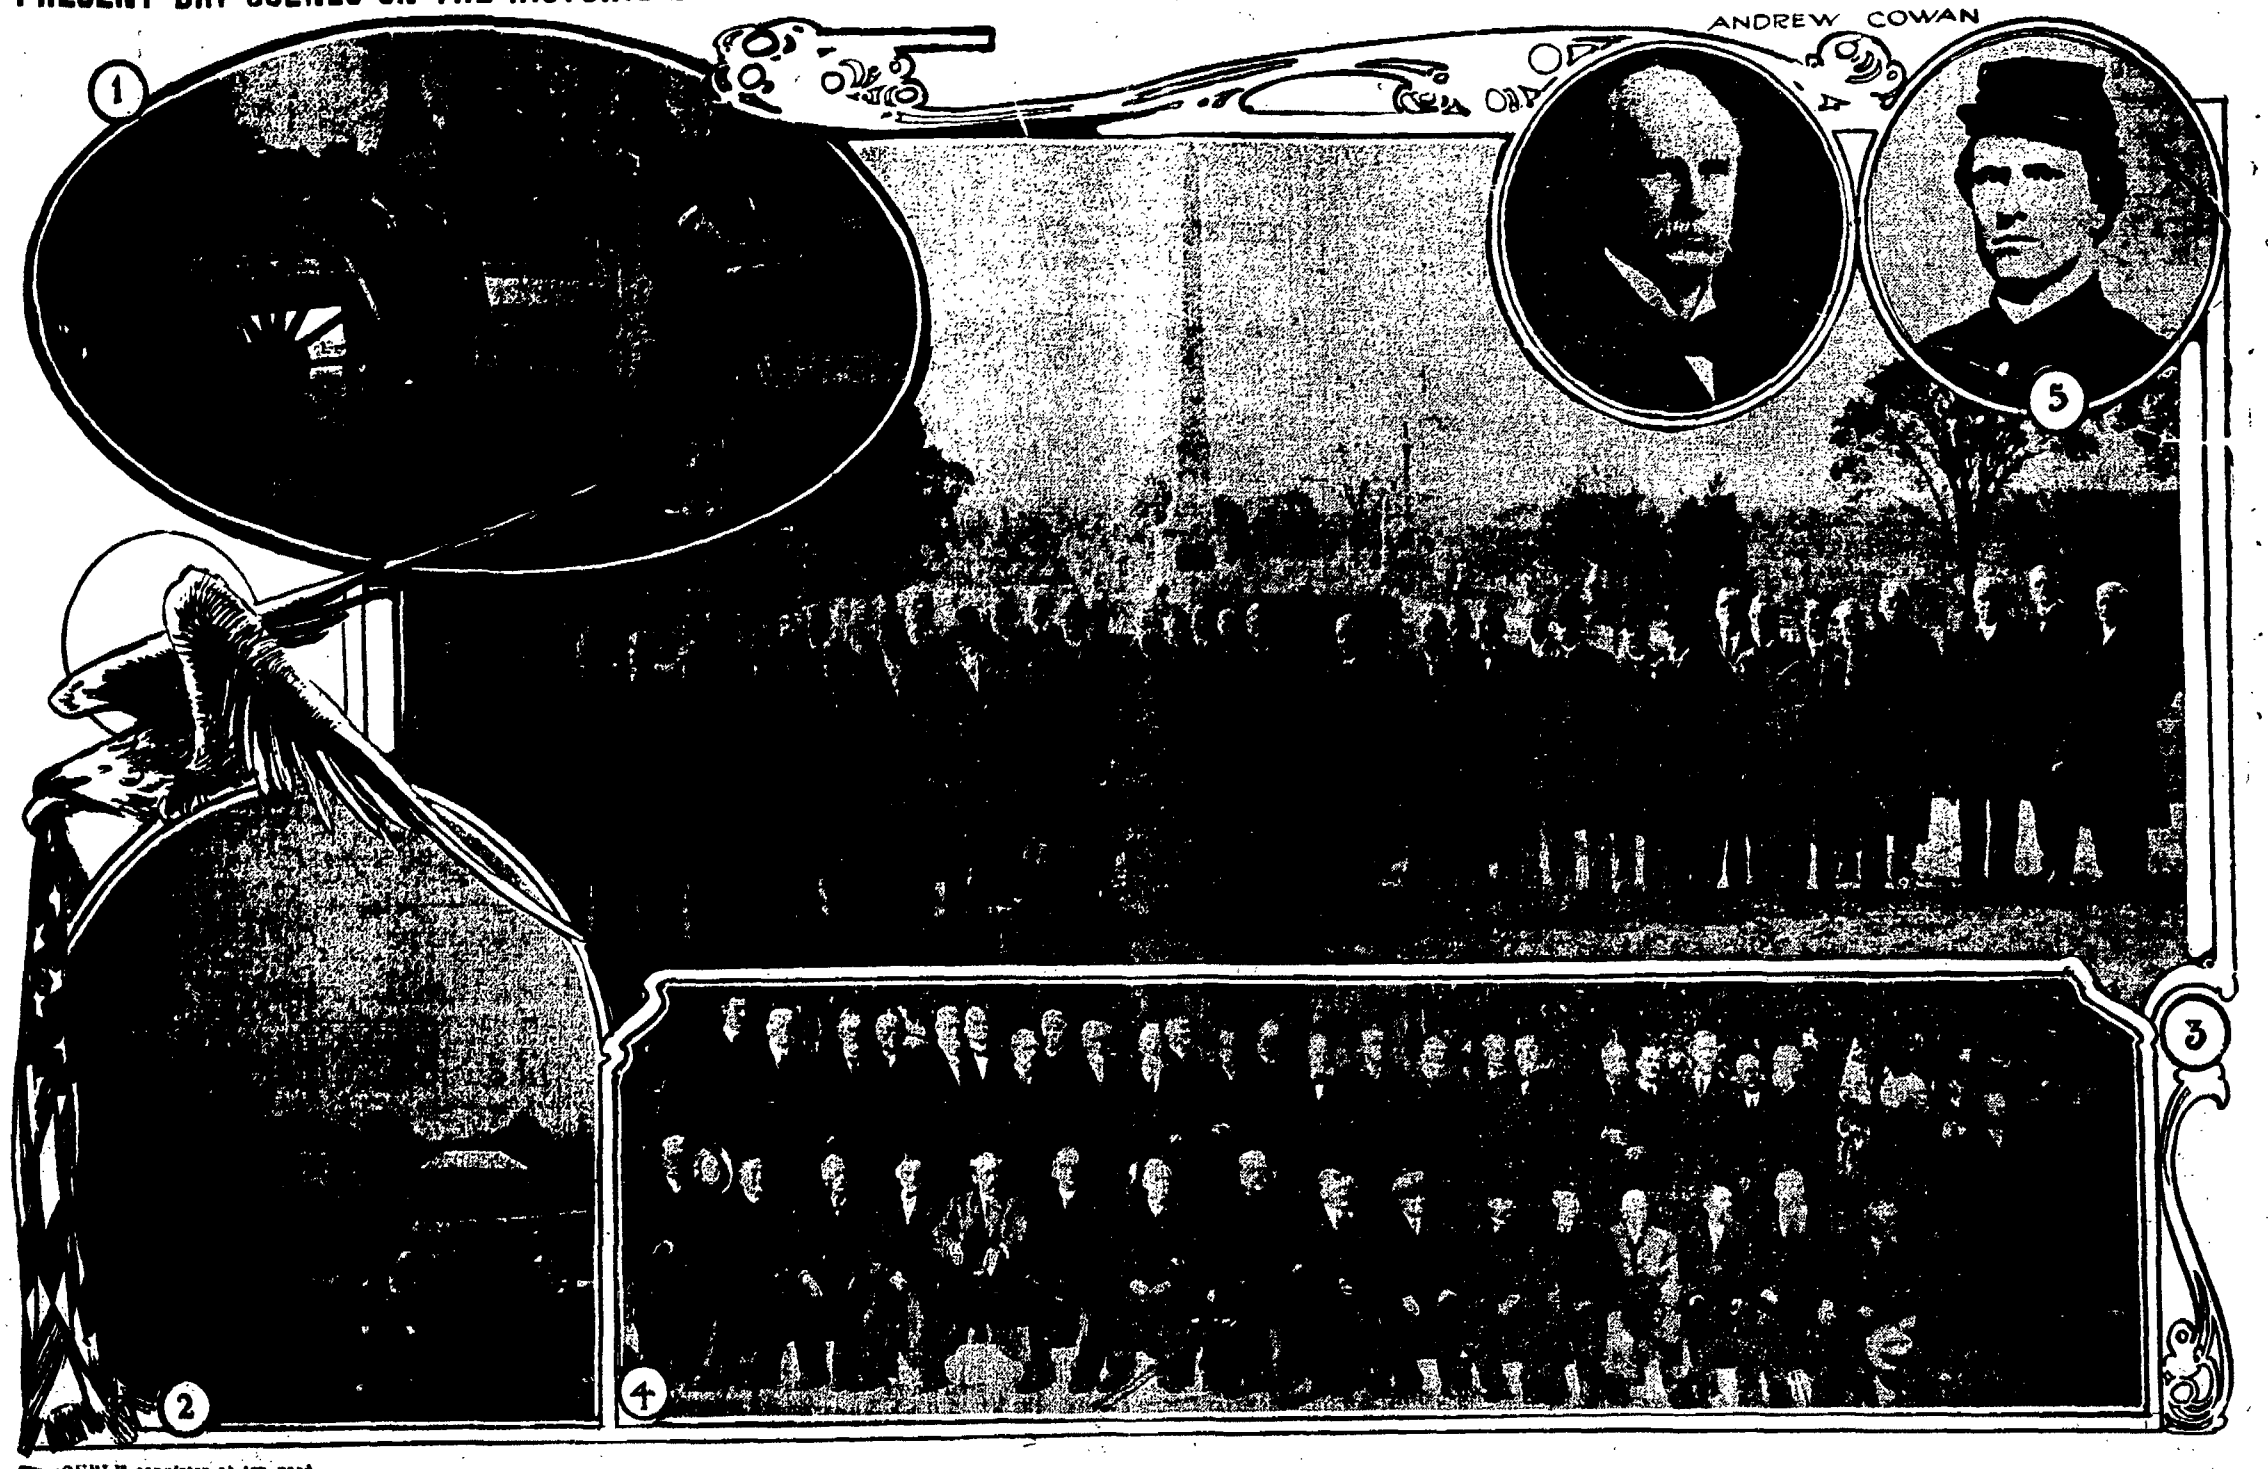
PRESENT DAY SCENES ON THE HISTORIC BATTLE FIELD AT GETTYSBURG AND COLONEL ANDREW COWAN, WHO LED TROOPS TO VICTORY.



"DOUBLE canister at ten yard.

These words are graven on the monument to the First New York battery of the Sixth corps, which stands on the battlefield of Gettysburg on the spot where, on July 3, 1863, the battery met Pickett's division of Longstreet's corps at the crest of its magnif cent charge, the "high tide of the Confederacy," the crisis of the civil war.

At the famous clump of trees was repulsed the flower of Lee's army, which the Confederate leader had hurled at the federal centre and which rolled back shattered after prodigies of valor.

The First New York battery, which had such a great part at Gettysburg, was commanded by Colonel Andrew Cowan, to-day an honored citizen of Louisville, Ky.

In this group of scenes on the Gettysburg battle field No. 1 shows the memorial to the First New York Battery erected by the State on the spot where the battery met Pickett's great charge. Colonel Cowan, who commanded the battery, is pointing out the direc tion from which Pickett's division advanced. At his right Professor John A. Himes, of Pennsylvania College. In front is Mr. William Marshall Bullitt, of Louisville, Ky., son of a Confederate soldier.

Near the wire fence in front and to the left of Cowan's Battery Monument in No. 2 is the memorial to the Twentieth Massachusetts regiment, and at the left is the monument erected by Congress in honor of all the regular army organizations taking part in the thre days' battle. The shaft surmounted by a bronze figure of Liberty is the Pennsylvania State Monument.

Photograph No. 3, taken on the battlefield in October last, is of the commission appointed by Congress and State Governors to arrange for the fiftieth anniversary of the battle. General Sickles is seated in the centre of the group. General Horatio C. King, o Brooklyn, stands at the right of General Sickles, next to him being Colonel Cowan. Among others in the group are United States Senators Heyburn and Oliver, Governor Willson, of Kentucky, and General Grant, who commanded the First Vermont brigade of the Sixt Corps. At the extreme left is General Law, who commanded on Longstreet's right the second day of the battle and nearly got possession of Little Round Top.

In No. 4 is seen the "High Water Mark" Monument, surmounted by an open book of bronze, on which the names of all the federal organizations that took part in the repulse of Longstreet's assault are inscribed on one of the pages and the names of all the Confed era: organizations on the opposite page. The background is the famous copse of trees.

The old time "ambrotype" of Colonel Cowan was taken in Washington in January, 1865, after the return of the batteries of the Sixth Corps from the Shenandoah Valley campaign.

Mrs. George Jolley and children have been the guests of relatives in Warren during the past few days.

Frank Graham left, Wednesday, for Bellevue, to spend a few days with Dr. F. M. Kent and family.

Miss Bernice Frost and Master Leonard Frost, of Cleveland, have been the guests of Misses Jessie and Olive Fifer and Master Audley Fifer, during the past week.

Charles Spratt and City Solicitor Thomas, of Portsmouth, have been the guests of Mr. Spratt's father, N. W. Spratt, since Thursday.

Miss Blanche Merchant, of Prospect, has been the guest of Misses Lizzie and Alpha Phillips, since Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harger went to Delaware, Friday, where the former entered the Jane Case hospital for treatment.

George Hoskins and F. Elmer Winter left, Thursday morning, for Yellowstone National park, where they will be employed until the first of September.

Thomas Spratt and family moved, Friday, from the old Spratt homestead on south Franklin street, to the Smith property on east Blagrove street. Mr. Spratt is building a new home on south Clinton steret, which he will occupy when completed. The Spratt property was purchased recently by F. L. Winter, who will remodel the same.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Furniss spent Thursday with relatives in Delaware.

Mrs. Melissa Gill, of Marion, visited her sisters, Mrs. J. P. Marriott, Mrs. M. W. Hill and other relatives during the past week.

A daughter was born, Wednesday, to Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Penney, of Chicago. The couple formerly lived in Richwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chambers, of McGuffey, arrived here, Saturday, for a visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Elzey left, Saturday, for Columbus, to spend a few days with friends.

H. J. Brooks, R. D. Roberts, John Ogan, George R. Gum and T. J. Mulligan were in Marysville, Wednesday evening, in attendance at a meeting of the stockholders of the Ohio National Life Insurance company. At the conclusion of the business session, a fine banquet was served at the Oakland hotel. Judge Lemert, president of the company, and other officials, of Cincinnati, were present to meet the stockholders, quite a number of whom are Union county people.

The Baptist church is undergoing extensive repairs, a new roof being placed on the building and the interior being redecorated. Until after the completion of the work, Sunday-school will be held in the Baptist parsonage, on south Franklin street.

Miss Ethel Cheney, who was employed as trimmer in a millinery store in Marysville, during the past season, arrived in Richwood, Friday, for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Kittie C. Cheney.

Miss Olive Sinkey, of Columbus, has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. S. E. Sinkey, during the past week.

The Sunday-school class of T. Spring, of the Baptist church, held a delightful social, Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Field, just east of Richwood. The class is composed of young women, who entertained their friends in a very pleasing manner.

Mrs. M. R. Stover was hostess to the Woman's Home Missionary society of the M. P. church, Friday afternoon, at the parsonage. A business session was held and a program rendered.

Mrs. Ida Scott received a letter, last week, from her brother-in-law, James Huggerd, who moved about three months ago from Richwood to Rathwell, Manitoba, containing the sad news of the critical illness of Mrs. Huggerd. A few days ago she suffered a stroke of paralysis, which has affected the brain, and her recovery is extremely doubtful.

The Richwood board of education held a meeting, Thursday evening, but, beyond the payment of a few bills, little business was transacted. There are several vacancies in the list of teachers for the coming year, none of which has yet been filled.

Mrs. Ella Randall and little Miss Onda McPherson, of Columbus, have been the guests of Miss Alma Donohue during the past week.

MRS. ABBIE H. TURNER DIES SUNDAY MORNING

Her Death Is the Result of Organic Heart Trouble.

Mrs. Abie H. Turner, sixty years old, widow of Thomas Turner, died of organic heart disease at the home of her brother-in-law, Charles Turner, No. 516 south State street, Sunday morning at 3 o'clock. She had been ill three weeks.

Mrs. Turner was born in Cincinnati, October 17, 1851, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Hubbell. She came to this city in November, 1910.

Mrs. Turner was a woman of strong Christian character, and her death, although not unexpected, will be learned with profound sorrow by those who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

The funeral services were held at the late residence, Monday at 9 o'clock, Rev. George M. Rourke officiating. The remains were shipped to Cincinnati, where interment was made in Spring Grove cemetery.

JOHN ROBINSON'S BIG WORKING ELEPHANTS

Great Herd of Fine Asiatic Elephants Coming to City.

MOST VALUABLE HERD IN UNITED STATES

How the Elephants Are Employed in Their Native Country and What They Are Taught—They Get the Finishing Touches to Education in This Country—Interesting Group.

When the John Robinson ten big shows exhibit in Marion, Monday, July 10, they wil bring with them the finest herd of Asiatic working elephants ever seen in this country. This wonderful herd of pachyderms was acquired two years ago by agents who visited the remote parts of Asia in search for animals and people odd and interesting enough for exhibition purposes.

These particular elephants with the John Robinson shows are known as lumber-working elephants. That is, they work in the great lumber districts of Asia. What they have been taught in their own country, coupled to the finishing touches that have been put to their education here, makes them unquestionably one of the most valuable herds in the country.

Lazy and clumsy-looking as the elephant appears in the menageries of America, where it is an object of curiosity, in Asia it is as useful an animal as the horse, and indeed, employed in a great number of ways. According to travelers and writers who have visited the Far East, there are few, if any tasks which a horse can be trusted to perform without constant guidance, whereas an elephant is given as much independence of action as a man would have for the same work. This is notably the case in the great lumber yards of the Rangoon and Moulmein, where the entire operation of moving and piling the heavy timber is performed by male elephants without any special supervision by the keepers.

The logs to be moved are teak wood, which is very heavy. They are cut into lengths of twenty feet, with a diameter, or perhaps a square, of about a foot. An elephant will go to a log kneel down, thrust his tusks under the middle of it, curl his trunk over it, test it to see if it is evenly balanced, and then rise with it and easily carry it to the pile that is being made. Placing the log carefully on the pile in its proper place, the sagacious animal will measure with his eye to determine whether or not the log needs pushing one way or another. It will then make any necessary alterations of position. In this way, without any word or command from its mahout or driver, it will go on with its work.

WILL ORDER RAZING OF MANY BUILDINGS

Fire Marshall To Get Busy in Many Ohio Cities.

Columbus, O., July 4.—Acting under the provisions of a new law, State Fire Marshal John W. Zuber will order the razing of hundreds of ramshackle buildings throughout the state. Columbus and Toledo, it is said, will see the razing of about fifty buildings each, Cincinnati and Cleveland more than 300 each, and other cities a few each.

Under the new law, after a building has been condemned as a fire trap and unsafe for occupancy, the owner is entitled to a hearing before the state fire marshal, but should the fire marshal then decide that it should be destroyed, the owner must comply or the state will do the job.

A delicious extract of either oranges or lemons may be had by paring the rinds off as thin as paper and putting them into a bottle of alcohol.

HEAT SUFFERER MAKES ATTEMPT ON HER LIFE

Mrs. S. N. Fields Takes Chloroform and Gas.

HUSBAND FINDS HER UNCONSCIOUS SUNDAY

Breaks Down Door to Bedroom. Mrs. Fields Is in Nervous Condition for Some Time and Attending Physician Believes Heat Causes Fit of Temporary Insanity.

Her mind affected by the intense heat, Effie Fields, aged forty-six years, wife of Sylvester N. Fields, a railwal mail clerk, made a strenuous, though unsuccessful, attempt to commit suicide at her home, No. 335 Belmont street, Sunday afternoon about 2 o'clock

Determined to die, Mrs Fields took a large quantity of chloroform, then placed herself on the bed near a gas jet, turned on the gas and placed the gas hose in her mouth. A short time later her husband heard her groaning and tried to get into the upstairs bedroom where his wife was, but found the door securely locked. He rushed to the home of Seth Knoch, a next-door neighbor, and asked for a ladder so that he could climb into the upstairs window, telling Mr. Knoch that something was wrong with his wife.

Breaks Down Door.

"Break down the door," Mr Knoch shouted, and the two men ran back to the Fields home. The door was crashed. Mrs. Fields was found unconscious, with a gas hose in her mouth and a half-pint bottle of chloroform near her. How much of the chloroform was taken by her is not known.

Dr. S. H. Britton was summoned. He gave the would-be suicide a hypodermic injection, and she shortly afterward recovered consciousness. An emetic was also administered. She will recover.

Mrs. Fields has been a victim of extreme nervousness at times following an operation on her neck some time ago When Dr. Britton arrived at her bedside he found her fever at 101, but believes that it was much higher than that.

"The gas would have a tendency to lower her fever," said the doctor when asked about the affair. "She had a thermic fever, which was caused by the extreme heat. This undoubtedly temporarily affected her mind."

Temporarily Insane.

Mr. Fields believes that his wife's mind was temporarily affected because of her peculiar actions at the dinner table. She at that time became raving mad and broke up some of the dishes following a little altercation between them about moving a dresser upstairs.

The Fields' have two children, Ruth, aged twelve years, and Clarence, aged five years.

SOME FEATURES OF COMING CARNIVAL

Voting Contests Which Promise To Be Popular.

Among the features planned by the Marion Baseball club, in connection with the carnival which is to be held on Prospect street from July 10 until July 15, is a series of popular voting contests, in which $250 worth of prizes are to be given away. There will be a solitaire diamond ring for the most-popular young lady, a 1911 model bicycle for the most popular schoolboy, an imported Parisian life-size doll for the most-popular schoolgirl and a genuine white sapphire ring for the homeliest man in Marion.

The prizes are on exhibition in the window of Schmidt's drug store and have already attracted much attention. Votes are sold at one cent each and the candidate receiving the largest number of votes will be declared the winner in each contest, at 9 30 p m., Wednesday July 12, when the contests close. Voting booths where votes may be cast have been installed at Kaler's store, Craft's store, the Dodgeright Inn and Schmidt's store, and several candidates are already at work for the various prizes.

THE JAMES E. REVELS SENTENCE COMMUTED

Revels Must Serve Twenty Years Instead of Life.

The life sentence of James E. Revels, colored, who was convicted of second degree murder for killing his brother-in-law, Frank Robinson, was commuted to twenty years by Governor Harmon, Saturday.

The killing occurred at the home of the two men's father-in-law, Samuel Lett on Park street, in May of 1901 Revels claimed that Robinson had slandered his wife and went to the Lett home, where Robinson was, to demand satisfaction.

July 13 1901, Revels was found guilty of second degree murder. He was sentenced to life imprisonment four days later.

Pleasant Gathering.

About twenty-five relatives and friends of Mr and Mrs. Edward Baseler gathered at their home, five miles west of the city, Sunday, in honor of Mrs. Baseler's fiftieth birthday. An elaborate dinner was served and the afternoon was spent in visiting and in the enjoyment of music.

CHAUTAUQUA TICKETS READY FOR PATRONS

Advance Sale Will Be Made at Only $1.50.

PRICE TO ADVANCE AT LATER DATE

Pledges To Purchase May Be Redeemed at the Office of Marion Gas Company—Where Tickets Are on Sale—Reserved Seats for Season Are Ready Now.

Chautauqua tickets are ready. The advance sale of season tickets is at the price of $1.50. When two thousand are sold the price will advance to $2.00, and whether this number is sold or not the price will advance to $2.00 the week before the assembly opens.

The Chautauqua program is contracted on the advance pledges made last year. Those who signed cards promising to purchase season tickets this year will find these pledges at the office of the Marion Gas company. The management requests all who made pledges to call and get tickets, whereupon the pledges will be returned to the makers.

Prospective Chautauqua patrons who are not pledged subscribers may procure their season tickets at any of the following places:

Marion Steam Shovel company.
Fairbanks Steam Shovel company.

WILLIAM KNOTTER'S BODY FOUND BY WIFE

Unfortunate Man Hangs Himself Sunday Afternoon.

FEARS INSANITY MAY LEAD HIM TO CRIME

Man Is Victim of a Blow on the Head Which Results in Insanity and His Confinement in the Asylum for a Time—The Story Told by Mrs. Knotter.

Obsessed by the fear that he would again lose his mind and harm some one, William Knotter, sixty-six years old, a former inmate of the state asylum for the insane, after driving his wife out of the house with an unloaded shotgun, committed suicide by hanging at his home, two miles south of Marion, Sunday afternoon.

The body was found dangling from the rope in a bedroom about 2:30 o'clock by Mrs. Knotter, who remembering that a bottle of carbolic acid was in the cupboard and fearing he might commit suicide with it, returned to her home, little realizing that he had hung himself.

"I decided to brave the gun," Mrs. Knotter told a neighbor, "because I thought he might take the acid."

Returns to the House.

The house where Knotter committed suicide is of one story, situated on a four-acre tract and located a short distance from the Delaware pike and west of the Waddel Children's home.

When driven from their little home, Mrs. Knotter went a distance of perhaps 400 feet and sat under a tree. She wept nearly all the time she sat there. Then she thought of the carbolic acid and rushed to the house She called her husband's name. Receiving no reply she stole softly into the house and went to the bedroom and was horror-stricken to find the body of her husband dangling from a rope which had been tied to a rafter in the garret. Neighbors were notified and Coroner W. H. Hinklin was called. The coroner was absent and Justice Charles E. Gompf responded in his stead Later the body was removed to the Schaffner undertaking parlors in this city.

Knotter in Asylum.

Mr. Knotter was committed to the asylum, November 3, 1906, and was discharged in February, 1907. The medical certificate at the time stated that he had lost his mind as a result of a blow received on the head. Knotter had been struck on the head with an ax by a neighboring farmer with whom he had quarreled. His assailant was never arrested.

A short time before he was committed to the asylum in 1906, Knotter burned his own home and tried to drown himself in a cistern. Since his release from the asylum he had been acting peculiarly at times.

The funeral services were held at the Schaffner undertaking establishment, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. J. L. Hensley officiating.

THE UNIVERSAL MAN.

By William T. Ellis.

The International Sunday-School Lesson for July 9 Is "The Suffering Servant of Jehovah," Isaiah 52:13-53:12.

A series of Chinese pictures of the prodigal son lie before me as I write, and they represent all the characters with queues, and the scenes as typical Chinese scenes. One of the great modern paintings of Christ portrays Him in the home of a German peasant, and all are clad in peasant garb. In Vienna I bought a picture of Jesus weeping over the city—but it was a modern city, with smoke-stacks, officebuildings and tenements

In all this there is nothing incongruous. The unique distinction of Jesus, amid all the personalities of history, is that He transcends geography and the calendar. He is a citizen of all nations, a contemporary of all men. We can not conceive of Buddha or Confucius outside of Asia: but Jesus is the "Universal Man." The portrait which the ancient Hebrew prophet has drawn of Him is that of a sympathetic Interpreter and Savior of all the world: There are no racial lines in this fifty-third chapter of Isaiah: it is the comfort of peoples of every color and tongue

The few immortal pieces of literature which have survived the mutations of time and the distinctions of nationality all touch a responsive chord in the common heart of humanity Their appeal is to the deeps of feeling, rather than to the critical judgment of the brain. This majestic passage which the Sunday-schools study today is probably the high-water mark of the old Hebrew literature. It should be in the storehouse of every person's memory, even if no lessons are drawn from it at present, the chapter itself should be committed by all the members of the Sunday-school A major general was repeating to some fellow travellers recently fine bits of poetry and the lament arose that the present generation neglects this means of mental enrichment and delight.

The Song of Sorrow.

Napoleon does not grow In the affections of mankind as the years pass; Lincoln and Lee do, for both of these were great in sympathy and sorrow. Through their breaking hearts the whole world of suffering mankind enters into fellowship with them. It is the "Man of Sorrows" to whom humanity turns in its need. The deep prophetic utterance declared of the Redeemer that "by His stripes we are healed." It is the broken heart that heals hearts. He who "poured out His soul unto death" thereby purchases life for the world. There is a time in almost every life when it cries, with the poet, "Champion of all who fail, fly to to Thee.

This song of sorrow is more profoundly true to life than any apotheosis of strength. During the past decade or two we have witnessed much of the cult of the successful. Triumph has been put on a pedestal; the men who have surpassed their fellows have been hailed as heroes. Wealth, power, fame, have been worshipped as the Baals of our twentieth-century idolatry. The persons who did not "get there," as the expressive colloquialism has it, were regarded with disdain. Happily, a reaction seems to be in sight. The world is learning that the men who miss the world's laurels may be yet worthy of honor's golden crowns. The defeated in life who have yet kept true faith in heart; the weak and bruised and cast aside, who in defeat and disaster have found themselves in fellowship with the "Man or Sorrows," the "despised and rejected of men," may be more truly victors than they, of coarser fiber, who have beaten down the world to its knees at their feet.

The Victorious Victim.

The most honored symbol in all the earth today was once a badge of shame; because the defeated Christ was crucified on a cross, that emblem has come to represent love and hope and mercy. Many discerning persons perceive that there is more than a figure of speech in the idea that the world may find its common meeting place at the foot of the cross. For it is in the fellowship of a universal human need, and of a realization of sin, and of a plea for pardon—a sef-consciousness of the necessity for divine forgiveness and divine endowment—that mankind is swept into a sense of its oneness and brotherhood. In a larger sense than the poet meant,

"Though sundered far, by faith we meet,
Around one common mercy seat."

The sagest minds in the older nations are today proclaiming that their national salvation lies in the discipleship to Christ. Their underlying need is for religion, and for that religion which emphasizes the lordship and redemption of Jesus. Otherwise, as certain pupil nations are now showing, the people lose that sense of allegiance and subordination which are essential to a state's well-being, and become individualistic and barren rationalists, holding in contempt ancient laws and obligations. On the other hand, history is full of proof that the cross both subdues and uplifts; it makes men subject to God and all earthly rulers, and it exalts his character and capacity. Discipleship of the "Crucified" does not emasculate men or nations; it strengthens their identity, while it humanizes them in one common sense of sin and need for divine forgiveness. Jesus is truly the "Hope" of the world, and "Desire" of nations.

An Idolized American.

The life which in any true sense resembles this prophetic portrait of the suffering "Servant of Jehovah" is always a powerful life. Paradoxically, it is the servants who rule. Over in Hang Chow, China, there was a young woman from one of the southern states, a missionary who earned the nickname of "The Goddess of Mercy." This is one of the popular Chinese idols, and she was called by the same Chinese appellation. Her life was a ministering, loving, sacrificing life. So with true instinct, the common people perceived that she really displayed those qualities which their favorite goddess was supposed to represent.

A Scot, in the north of China, Dr D. Christie, of Mukden, has gone to honor and power by the same divine plan He is the servant of the city. In two wars and in the recent plague the old city looked to him as its deliverer. This was simply because, through the humdrum days, he had poured out his soul in efficient human service. He asked only for opportunity to follow his Master's example of doing good to his fellowmen, even to the evil and the unthankful; but, lo, all unexpectedly, emperors and nations have lavished honors upon him. He has shared the portion of the great, because he has shared the spirit of the meek and lowly Savior giving himself as a ransom for many.

It is in such as these that the world reads the clear message of God's love. Over and over the sublime truth is to be repeated, that only they know God at all who understand Him to be a compassionate, sympathetic, loving Father, whose nature is most truly revealed in the person of the suffering Savior.

JANITORS ENTERTAIN BOARD OF EDUCATION

A Pleasant Affair at the Central School Building.

The janitors of Marion's ten school buildings entertained the members of the board of education at a small spread at the Central building, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. No speechmaking was permitted.

Those present were J. Wilbur Jacoby, H. Edmond Hill, Fred E. Guthery, M. B. Dickerson, O. G. Briggs and Robert J. Pennell, members of the board of education, and Janitors Philip Ebert, John Neidhart, Robert Smith, J. F. Fatzler, Robert Martin, N Rouse, James Werts, B F. Little, Lawrence Sheitler and J. J Rudolph.

PRESIDENT TAFT IS A MARION VISITOR

Makes an Unexpected Stop Here Monday Morning.

A SMALL COMPANY EXTENDS A GREETING

President Talks to the Crowd a Few Minutes and Tells a Story—But Few Marion People Know of the Coming of the President—Is Enroute to Marion, Indiana.

President William Howard Taft honored Marion with his presence, Monday. The distinguished visitor arrived here in his private car on Big Four train, No. 21, arriving in the city shortly before 11 o'clock. At the union station, President Taft spoke from the rear platform of his car and was heard by a small but enthusiastic crowd.

It was with some little difficulty that those in the president's coach were induced to present the president as they were under the impression that the station had not yet been, reached and the coach was standing near the Leader street bridge.

"Bring him out and if he says 'How-do-you-do?' we will be satisfied," one of the crowd cried and presently the president came amid the cheering of the little band.

President's Greeting.

After saluting the crowd, the president with a broad smile spreading over his face, red with the heat, said:

"Some of you have got the best of me for I can't take my coat off." Taking a deep breath apparently to get rid of some of the excess temperature, he smiled again and queried, "This is the home of Warren Harding, isn't it? Well I was considerably interested in his race for governor last fall, but my efforts did not seem to avail much. Are you prosperous here in Marion?"

Looking toward the plant of the Fairbanks Steam Shovel company, the president said; "That factory over there looks very healthful, but it looks rather hot. I want to thank you for coming out on such a hot day."

As the president turned amid the cheers, he met three people in the crowd with whom he was acquainted and shook hands with them. The people are not residents of this city, however, but were at the train to greet the president.

Questioning them if they were well and conversing with them for a little time, the president told a story Archbishop Ryan had once told him of a man who was six feet and ten inches tall. The archbishop passed the remark that if he were to die by inches it would take him a long time to die.

The Crowd Laughs.

The crowd enjoyed a good laugh with the president, who then turned bidding good-by to the company and went into his coach.

President Taft never looked in better health than he did that morning and he appeared to be enjoying himself despite the extreme heat. Many of the local people who had impressions that the president was a monster physically were rather disappointed.

The president was enroute from his summer home at Beverly, Massachusetts, to Marion, Indiana, where he is to deliver the Fourth of July address, Tuesday. While enroute he delivered several talks, but seldom mentioned politics. He spoke to a small crowd at Caledonia.

Few Marion people were aware of the fact that the president would come through Marion until late that morning when the wires told the story of his coming.

BOOTH PLEADS GUILTY AND PAYS HIS FINE

Campaign Against Owners of Seines in the County.

L. W. Booth, who conducts a junk shop and general merchandise store on north Main street, pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawfully having a seine in his possession when arraigned before Justice Charles E. Gompf, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He was fined $25 and costs. He settled.

Booth was arrested by C. Neimeyer, of Prospect, deputy state game warden, who searched his place of business last week and found a seine twelve by five feet in dimensions. The seine was confiscated. It is against the law to have a seine larger than four by eight feet in dimensions.

The deputy game warden declares that Booth's arrest is only the beginning of a series of arrests to be made by him of violators of the game and fish laws. He also proposes to make a crusade against dynamiters of fish in the streams of the county.

The game warden has been put in possession of the names of a great many owners of seines by the local hook-and-line fisherman disgusted with conditions.

By the time Dr. Cook has addressed a few more Chautauqua crowds he won't have a doubt about discovering the pole.

With potatoes selling at $2.40 a bushel it's easier to believe the statement of the food experts that potatoes are "too heating" for hot weather.

While Champ Clark insists that the presidency should seek the man, Champ, personally, can see no indelicacy about erecting a lightning rod.

Considering the kind of weather Professor Moore gave Mr. Taft at the inauguration and the other variety he turned on for the president's trip to the Hoosier state, it's hard to understand how the professor is able to escape being separated from his job.

The Marion County Chautauqua association could have made a hit by engaging Admiral Togo and having the celebrated Jap sea-fighter and Captain Hobson fight it out in a debate.

If Doc Osler comes upon that item about an Ithaca, New York, woman skipping the rope twenty-one times on her eighty-first birthday, it's hard to see how he can help feeling that he secured that title under false pretenses

The Mansfield Shield says. "Hines, lumber trust head, swears Taft put his O K on Lorimer and Taft swears he didn't. So there you are." It is apparent that the Shield saw Taft's denial of that fable and overlooked the denial of Hines.

Now plan for a safe and sane vacation. One should not exchange the comforts and conveniences of the home, hardly acquired, for the primitive hardships of pioneer life. If one must go afar, see that the chosen spot for the vacation affords at least coolness, comfort and sanitation. When one is tired and worn after a year on life's treadmill, change and rest are good, but one is not in condition to resist the attacks of the typhoid germ if his haunts are invaded.

The Arizona constitution is pretty bad, but under its self-contained provisions it can be easily amended. Amendments may be "initiated" by a petition of fifteen per cent. of the votes cast at the last preceding general election, submitted at any general election and carried by a bare majority of the vote cast on the amendment itself. Lawmaking in Arizona will be kaleidoscopic and interestingly rapid. There will be no fundamentals.

The State Journal arguing against the necessity for the calling of an extra legislative session to provide for reapportionment of the congressional districts, says that the difficulty of electing twenty-two congressmen for twenty-one districts can be easily solved by electing one for the state at large. The Cleveland Plain Dealer agrees, but wants to know how the congressman at large would be nominated. All this would be easy if it were not that the law stands in the way of the entire scheme.

John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, after a brief term of modest silence to propitiate the senatorial conventions, is moving along to his rightful place as the leader of the Democratic minority in the senate. Williams has had a long drill in this line and is best equipped of any of the senators for the post of leading a guerilla warfare. He is alert of mind, sharp of tongue, always in control of his temper and emotions He lacks the learning and oratorical ability of Bailey but he also lacks the latter's vanity, hot temper and selfishness.

It is reported that crime is on the increase in England, and one explanation given by investigators is that "compassion for the criminal has been carried so far as to blunt and blur the sense of indignation at the crime." Of course, this does not wholly explain, but it helps to account in a measure, for the reported increase noted in England since 1899 We have observed the same singular fact in America The many well-intentioned societies working for the improvement of the convicted, the picture shows with their false stories and faked illustrations, in many cases, the detective stories, in which the virtues, bravery and ability of the crook are exploited, the technical defenses interposed to shield the influential criminal, all these have had their part in reconciling the public mind to crime as a thing not to be harshly punished or severely condemned. Justice should be prompt and sure Prison discipline should be stern, but just. There should be neither brutality nor maudlin sentimentality in the treatment of the criminal. And, above all, laws should be made sensible and reasonable and then enforced rigidly and without fear or favor. We have too many dead-letter laws; too many persons selecting the laws they care to observe and violating others as a right

NOT AN ACCIDENT DUE TO CELEBRATING

No Injuries by Fireworks in the City Tuesday.

The celebration of a sane Fourth this year established a unique record in the history of Independence day celebrations in Marion Not a single accident was reported.

In previous years, the list of accidents due to explosives used in making the eagle scream, has been long as a usual thing. But this year, Marionites were satisfied to observe the great red-letter day with picnicking and fishing parties The attractions *furnished by the Marion Coun*ty Sunday-School association at Lincoln park drew hundreds to that cool spot Young America was permitted to enjoy a display of fireworks there without injury.

Marion's observance of the Fourth was safe and sane in every way.

Interurban cars out of the city were packed all day. At the interurban station, it was said that it was not known how many people were hauled

"I don't know," was the reply to the question of how many tickets were sold for points out of Marion. "We haven't had time to count 'em"

FARMERS' FIGHT ENDS IN A JUSTICE'S COURT

Jacob Wipfler is Arrested on Complaint of E. Firstenberger.

Jacob Wipfler, a tenant on the Elias Firstenberger farm in Richland township, and the owner of the farm, celebrated the Fourth with fisticuffs, Tuesday afternoon. Both called each other liars and the result was that Firstenberger was pretty badly used up. He came to town and swore out a warrant for Wipfler's arrest on a charge of assault and battery. Wednesday Wipfler was arrested by Constable James F Ullom. He pleaded guilty and was fined five dollars and costs by Justice C H. Conley.

The trouble between the men arose over a dispute as to when Wipfler was to give up the possession of the farm Firstenberger lives on Girard avenue

D. L. YAKE MAKES ESCAPE FROM JAIL

Cuts Way to Liberty While Sheriff is Absent.

Wednesday forenoon, when Sheriff Chilcote went to the prisoners' part of the jail, he discovered that his only guest, D. L. Yake, had escaped some time during Tuesday night. Yake never gets up in time for breakfast and his absence was not discovered until nearly noon. Pieces of the saw used were found on the jail floor. The jail windows are protected by a double set of bars and Yake had sawed through one bar in each of these. Sheriff Chilcote and family were in Cardington, Tuesday night, at the celebration and it is supposed Yake got out during their absence. Word has been sent to surrounding towns, but as yet no trace of him has been found.—Morrow County Sentinel.

TWO INDICTMENTS NOLLED THURSDAY

James M. Ross Is Relieved of the Charges.

A United Press wire from Columbus Thursday says:

Two indictments outstanding against James M. Ross, Democratic leader and former sheriff of Franklin county, charging him with bribing J. D. Gillespie, former Marion county commissioner, were nolled by Judge Kinkead, today, at the request of Prosecuting Attorney Turner.

The indictments charged that Ross, while president of the Ruggles-Gale company, gave Gillespie valuable presents to influence him in the purchase of county supplies. Ross was placed on trial two weeks ago on an indictment charging him with bribing Gillespie by giving him a $30 raincoat. The state could not prove that the crime occurred in Franklin county, and Judge Rathmell ordered the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE COMMON PLEAS COURT

Report as to Dissolution of the Ohio Sanatorium Company.

FINDINGS MADE BY REFEREE W. N. HARDER

John H. Dwyer Brings a Suit in the Common Pleas Court Against Carter Brothers—Seeks To Recover Sum of $180 and Interest—Other Affairs of Interest.

A voluminous report of the evidence taken before Referee W. N. Harder upon the question of the dissolution of the Ohio Sanatorium company in the suit of Carl W. Sawyer and others against the Ohio Sanatorium company and others, was filed by the referee in the court of common pleas Wednesday morning.

Referee Harder declares that the evidence disclosed that the company has never paid or earned any dividend on its common stock; that it has not paid or earned dividends on its preferred stock since August 1, 1909, at which time it paid a dividend of one per cent. on such stock; that the business is not now being carried on at a profit; that the plaintiffs in the action who have petitioned for the dissolution of the corporation, comprise all the members of the board of directors, save one.

Referree Harder further finds, that the plaintiffs own 1,155½ shares of the preferred and 1,551½ shares of the common stock, and declares that no objection was made or offered before him to the dissolution, nor was any testimony given or offered opposing or objecting to the dissolution. He says the testimony was given before him at a hearing on the examination of witnesses by counsel for the plaintiffs, and that no further or other testimony was given or offered

The capital stock of the company consists of 4,500 shares, of which 2,250 shares are common and 2,250 shares are preferred, each share having a par value of $100. All of the stock has been issued.

The property and effects of the corporation consist of real estate, valued at $16,000; furnishings and fixtures, valued at $6,739.17; bills receivable, face value, but subject to discount of about one-half, $2,400.73; cash in hand, $6,326.08. The outstanding debts are:

Bills payable, $2,124; receiver's fee and attorney's fee, undetermined.

County Clerk W. W. Klinefelter has received from the state registrar of automobiles a book of automobile registrations for May, containing a total of 5,200 registrations, which is an increase over the same month of last year of 3,000. The total registrations in the state to date is over 39,000, which is 7,000 more than all of last year, and 12,000 more than at this time a year ago.

The department in Washington has completed a rearrangement of the naturalization districts throughout the United States, and Marion is now in what is known as the Pittsburg district. Heretofore it has been in the Detroit district. County Clerk W. W. Klinefelter has just received a letter notifying him of the change.

In the suit of the Citizens' Building & Loan company against Millie J. Baldwin and others, the Marion County Bank company has filed an answer and cross petition, in which it asks that on the final hearing of the cause its mortgage deed may be reformed to conform to the intention of the parties as far as the same may be done, and so that the description may read as follows:

"Known as being thirty-eight feet off the south side of lot No. 775 in Spaulding's addition to the town, now city of Marion, Ohio." It is further asked that the mortgage be adjudged a valid lien on the property described; that an accounting may be had and made of the amount owing the answering defendant on its note and mortgage, and that the property be sold.

John H Dwyer, in the common pleas court, has brought an action against John Carter and William Carter, partners doing business as Carter brothers, to recover judgment against John Carter, surviving partner of William Carter and John Carter, in the sum of $180, with six per cent. interest from October 8, 1910.

In his petition the plaintiff says the cause comes into the court of common pleas on appeal from Justice Charles H. Conley's court; that at the time of the commencement of the action and at the time of the execution and delivery of a check for $180, the defendants, John and William Carter, were partners doing business under the firm name of Carter brothers; that October 8, 191', Carter brothers executed and delivered, through William C. Carter, duly authorized by Carter brothers, to the plaintiff, a certain check of the same date, in the sum of $180 on the Farmers' ban at Waldo; that the plaintiff presented the check and payment was refused; that there are no cerdits or offsets against the check and that there is due the plaintiff the sum of $180, with interest.

The plaintiff further says that since the commencement of the action one of the defendants, William Carter, "departed this life leaving the defendant, John Carter, sole surviving partner of said partnership."

Another angle to the much-tangled will case of the late Dr. J. W. Thatcher, who died in this city, July 16, 1908, developed with the filing of a petition by the decedent's son, Ned E. Thatcher, of Harrison county, Texas, Wednesday afternoon, in the court of common pleas. He asks that a purported will admitted to probate, June 16, 1911, be set aside.

Frances E Crosby, Lillian B. Thatcher, Sidney L. Thatcher, Katie L. Wilson, Louisa Reeves, Mary A. Monahan, and Ned E. Thatcher, as administrator of the estate of John W. Thatcher, are named as defendants in the son's petition.

A previous will admitted to probate was set aside by the common pleas court, April 29, 1911, and pieces of the mutilated will has since then been pasted together and bated.

In his petition filed Wedne Ned E. Thatcher says he was pointed administrator of his fat estate, July 20, 1908; that a ce paper writing purporting to b last will was admitted to pr June 16, 1911, "under the pre that the said John W. Thatcher leaving such an alleged last wil testament."

In the absence of a will the would be the sole heir. The w be contested leaves any money maining after the payment of fu expenses to a niece, Lillian Thatcher, daughter of a broth the decedent, Lorenzo Thatche Oregon City, Oregon; to his son E. Tatcher, a farm of 103 ¼ in Canaan township, Morrow co and his gold watch and chain, l bookcases, trunks and content his sister, Lou Reevs, of D during his natural life, lots No and 64 in Hazen & Kling's ad to Marion, the same being on State street, and at her death property to descend to Sidney Thatcher, son of Ned E. Do Your Cooking in the Cool

A hot kitchen is little better than a prison in summer. But the range is there, so all the cooking and the washing must be done there, too.

What a relief it would be to move the range where you pleased. You can do this with a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove—cook your dinner out on the porch, if you like. It is the only range that is really portable—that works equally well in any place. There are no connections to be made, as in a gas range; no wiring, as with an electric stove; no sooty flues and ash-filled grates, as with coal or wood.

The long, enameled chimneys carry the heat directly up to saucepans, oven or boiler; you get full value from your fuel, without waste.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

MOST SUCCESSFUL PICNIC AT HEPBURN

Held by Epworth Leaguers of the Delaware District.

THE PROGRAM IS OF UNUSUAL WORTH

Rev. M. D. Bumgardner, of Prospect, Is Chosen President for the Succeeding Term—Other Officers Are Chosen—Dr. A. E. Smith Is Winner of Fat Men's Race.

About twenty-five from this city attended the basket picnic of the Epworth league of the Delaware district at Hepburn, June 27. The Marion party left here shortly before 8 o'clock, and upon its arrival at the park at Hepburn, joined the host of Epworth Leaguers and enjoyed the day with profit and pleasure. Nearly 300 members, coming from various points over the district, were present.

Rev. William McK. Brackney, district superintendent of the church, conducted the devotions when the program of the morning was opened, and Dr. A. E. Smith, president of Ohio Northern university, at Ada, gave the address of the day It was most forceful and inspiring. A symposium, "Rolling the League Wheel," was conducted and J. C. Miller, of Upper Sandusky, discussed "Methods of An Ideal Service." Herman Kehner, of Prospect, discussed "Our Great Commission." Mrs. C. Jameson, of Delaware, spoke on "Our Unrealized Opportunity, in the Largest Field of Service Within the Epworth League," and Miss Mina Boger, of this city, gave an interesting talk on, "The Social League and Its Great Strength."

Rev. M. D. Bumgardner, of Prospect, gave an address, "Culture and Evangelism," and was heard with interest.

During the day officers were elected as follows:

Rev. M. D. Bumgardner, of Prospect, president; J. C. Miller, of Upper Sandusky, first vice president; Mr. Richards, of Delaware, second vice president; Miss Edith Marsh, of LaRue, third vice president; Miss Mina Boger, of Marion, fourth vice president; Miss Ruth Hecker, of Prospect, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. E. E. McCammon, of Delaware, junior league superintendent; Rev. J. W. Holland, of Upper Sandusky, E. E. McCammon, of Delaware, and Dr. D. H. Bailey, of Marion, executive committee.

At the noon hour, a basket lunch was spread, and during the afternoon various outdoor sports were enjoyed. Miss Mina Boger, of this city, was in charge. Various recreations were enjoyed. In a fat man's race, Dr. A. E. Smith, of Ada, won the honors, and in a slim man's race, Herman Kehner, of Prospect, claimed the prize.

As a whole the picnic, Thursday, was one of the most successful ever held in the district.

LUCKILY ESCAPES SERIOUS INJURIES

Mrs. Metzger Figures in Gas Explosion June 30.

An explosion, which could be heard for blocks, occurred on north Grand avenue, about 9 o'clock Friday morning, when a gas range exploded at the home of J. C. Metzger, the electrician.

Mrs. Metzger was baking pies and had just lighted the oven and turned to a table to prepare the dough when the explosion occurred. She was thrown across the room, but was not injured except bruised by the fall. The stove pipe was knocked down, the stove lids were blown off and the window in front of which Mrs. Metzger was standing was broken into pieces.

The neighbors, hearing the noise, rushed to the home and found Mrs. Metzger lying unconscious on the floor. She was soon revived.

One of the neighbors turned off the gas on entering the room.

SIMPLE HOME WEDDING IS CELEBRATED

Mrs. Flora A. Kowalke Becomes Wife of C. L. Price.

THE CEREMONY AT THEIR COZY HOME

Following the Service, Which Is Attended by the Immediate Families Only, Congratulations Are Spoken and a Wedding Feast Is Served. Pretty Remembrances.

A very pretty but simple home wedding was celebrated, Thursday evening, when Mrs. Flora A. Kowalke and Mr. Clarence L. Price were united in marriage in their own cozy home at No. 225 Olney avenue, which had been previously prepared.

At the appointed hour—7:30 o'clock—Rev. Eugene Price, of Ridgeway, an uncle of the groom, read the impressive ring ceremony uniting them in the bonds of wedlock. Only the immediate families of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony, and after congratulations had been extended, a fine wedding supper was served, buffet style, and the evening was passed very pleasantly.

The guests from a distance were Rev. Mr. Price and son, Olan, of Ridgeway; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Price, of Rushsylvania; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Price and daughter, Adaline, of Newark.

The presents received were very beautiful, among them being a handsome bedroom suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Price did not leave on a wedding trip, but will later take a trip through New York.

Mrs. Price is very well known in Marion, having been one of the most efficient teachers in the local public schools for the last nineteen years, thirteen of which she was principal of the Lincoln school building. She is a daughter of Mrs. Wilhelmina Kowalke, of south Main street, and is held in high esteem by a wide circle of admiring friends.

Mr. Price is employed as a machinist at Galion by the Erie Railroad company. He is an active member of the Knights of Pythias lodge at Kenton and of the Masonic order at Galion, and is highly respected by his friends and acquaintances.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Marion.

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in time of danger.

Backache is kidney danger.

Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly.

Plenty of evidence to prove this.

Mrs William Garner, 624 S. Spring street, Bucyrus, Ohio, says: "I was in a bad way as the result of kidney trouble. My body became badly bloated and my feet were swollen. There was a weakness of my kidneys that caused me annoyance, and I felt dull and languid nearly all the time. I tried many remedies but did not succeed in finding relief until Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I procured a box. I was gratified at the great improvement from the first and short use restored me to good health." (Statement given in 1900.)

THE TEST OF TIME.

On November 29, 1907, Mrs. Garner confirmed her former statement, saying: "It gives me great pleasure to confirm everything I previously said in regard to Doan's Kidney Pills. Although I have done a great deal of hard work since they cured me, I have not noticed the slightest symptom of kidney trouble."

FALLS BEFORE SCYTHE OF THE GRIM REAPER

W. H. Berry Dies at Son's Home in Morral.

FALLS VICTIM TO ILLS OF OLD AGE

Leaves Six Children, Forty-Nine Grandchildren and Forty-One Great-Grandchildren—Funeral Service Was Held at Byhalia Sunday Morning at 11 O'Clock.

W. H. Berry, aged seventy-nine years, three months and twenty-seven days, died at the home of his son, F. L. Berry at Morral, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, after an illness of about eleven weeks of old age and complications. Mr. Berry was well known over Marion county, and was held in high esteem by his friends.

Aside from his son at whose home he had resided for some time and where he died, six children survive. They are Mrs. Etta Harriott, of Ostrander; Mrs. Mina Gamp, of near Marysville; Mrs. Ema Fenner, of Irwin; J. D. Berry, of Byhalia; Louis Berry, of Bucyrus, and S. A. Berry, of Marion. Mr. Berry's wife died about six years ago. He left forty-nine grandchildren and forty-one great-grandchildren.

Mr. Berry was a member of the Christian church at Richwood.

The funeral services were held at Byhalia, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, Rev. O. E. Smith, of the M. E. church at that place, officiating. Interment was made in the cemetery there.

EARL REASONER IS HIT BY A BULLET

Another Bullet Goes Through a Sanatorium Window.

REASONER IS THE ONLY ONE INJURED

Bullet Hits Him at an Angle and Penetrates His Scalp—Two Inches Lower and It Might Have Produced Death—Shooting Is Attributed to Small Boys.

While sitting on the rear veranda at his home on west Church street, Friday evening about 6 o clock, Earl Reasoner, a Wells Fargo Express messenger, was struck by a stray bullet Had the bullet, which penetrated his scalp, struck two inches lower the skull would have been penetrated and the accident might have been fatal

Very fortunately for Reasoner, the bullet angled as it struck his head and aside from a severe scalp wound he was not seriously injured Dr A M Crane was summoned and gave him the necessary attention The bullet was ground on one side when it was removed from the scalp The attending surgeon stated Saturday that Reasoner's condition is in no way serious

At practically the same time that the accident occurred at the Reasoner home a stray bullet crashed through a window in the pantry at the Marion City hospital on Blaine avenue, and by a narrow margin missed Miss Normal Randolf a little girl who was in the room at the time Others nearby were considerably shocked and frightened but no one was injured

It is thought that the shots were fired by small boys in the vicinity armed with a twenty-two caliber rifle An investigation was made, Friday evening, and the local police were on the scene, but no trace has been found of the parties who did the shooting

Persons in the community say there is reason to believe that some parties may have done the shooting intentionally

AVERS NEGLIGENCE ON PART OF CHASE

Charles W. Jacoby Files Answer and Cross-Petition

IN SUIT GROWING OUT OF AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Jacoby, by Way of Cross-Petition, Asks for $200 Damages Against Chase for Breaking Up His, Jacoby's, Machine—Pleading Filed by Joseph and Ethel Price

An answer and cross petition has been filed, in the suit of Mark Q Chase against Charles W Jacoby, by the defendant, through Attorneys Jacoby & Donithen He admits that he was the owner of the automobile described in the petition, and that Chase's automobile collided with his machine

In his cross-petition, the defendant says that the plaintiff was guilty of carelessness in driving his machine and that any injuries or damages sustained by the plaintiff by reason of the collision were the direct of his negligence The defendant avers that his own machine was out of commission, and that he pulled it to one side of the Big Island pike where an ordinary driver would not have struck it He asks $200 damages against the plaintiff

In the suit of the Citizens' Building & Loan company against Millie J Baldwin and others Joseph and Ethel Price have filed an answer and cross petition in which they set up that, July 22 1910, they purchased from the defendants a lot in Marion, but that in making the deed a clerical error occurred whereby they were deeded the wrong piece of property which did not belong to the people selling it nor neither did the property they intended to convey belong to them it is averred

The answering defendants assert that the Baldwins represented to them that there was a $700 mortgage on the property when in reality there was about $800 due on it They say they have spent some money on improvements on the property and claim to have been damaged in the sum of $300 for which judgment is asked Attorney J Wilbur Jacoby represents the answering defendants

In the suit of David Vestal administrator of the estate of J N Matthews against F J Sutton and others A S Scmerlott through Attorneys Mouser & Monlowe has filed in the common pelas court an answer in which he asks judgment for $304 claiming that much is due him in the payment of taxes on four lots at Green Camp which were originally owned by him and F J Sutton The latter is now deceased

JOHN ROBINSON TEN BIG SHOWS COMBINED

Will Come to Marion Next Monday.

ROBINSON NEEDS NO INTRODUCTION

Generation After Generation Has Witnessed Its Performances with Delight—Courteous Treatment Is Always Offered by Its Employes. Show Has Been Augmented.

The John Robinson ten big shows combined are coming Monday, July 10 For both magnitude and merit this gigantic aggregation stands in a class peculiarly its own It needs no introduction to the true lovers of wholesome and substantial amusement, for its name is a household one and has been for many generations

The tents that are required by this enterprise are the largest ever manufactured and to convey it through the country three long trains of double-length cars are required While magnitude is conspicuous, there is an equal supply of extreme merit In fact one has kept apace with the other

This year finds the John Robinson show enlarged and bettered in every department, and to the performance that is usually given by exhibitions of this kind has been added a complete and interesting Wild West show and trained animal exposition It is difficult for a layman to surmise the extent to which the proprietor has gone in his efforts to further the reputation of this heretofore unexcelled enterprise Without fear of contradiction, it can be truthfully said, and without the least fear of contradiction that each department is a show within itself There is no other showman or a collection of showmen who would dare to consider the offering of all that is seen with the John Robinson shows It is nothing short of marvellous While other shows this season have deemed it wise to decrease their expenses by curtailing their attractions and performances, Manager John Robinson has taken the opposite view, and enlarged both That his wise move is appreciated is attested to by the many thousands who crowd the tents daily

One of the features of this show that has made it the criterion of all others is the care it takes of its patrons There is nothing that can be thought of to provide for their comfort and safety that has been left undone Every known modern device is in use and every employe from the heads of the many departments to the insignificant pony boy is under the very strictest of orders to treat patrons and visitors politely and to answer all pertinent questions politely Manager Robinson realizes that there are many things in and about a show that the public are not enlightened on and which they seek to be Hence these orders

REBER SECURES A WRIT OF REPLEVIN

To Recover Safe Valued by Him at Fifty Dollars

Another sequel to the sale of the Millholland Pressed Brick company to George W Clark, a transaction that has been pending in the courts for several years has been the eviction of Clark and his wife from the premises by Lenox Reber who owns the real estate and against whom Clark got judgment for over $8,000 in the common pleas court And still another sequel is a writ of replevin to obtain possession of a safe from Clark

Clark turned over the keys to Reber June 24 The following day he removed a safe from the building He claimed to have purchased it from Reber, who denied that Clark had bought it Clark refused to deliver it to him and Reber secured a writ of replevin to recover the safe valued at $50

Last Saturday, in Justice Charles E Gompf's court, a hearing was to have been held on the writ of replevin Clark demanded a jury trial Reber said that he was going to be out of the city for several weeks and asked the justice to set the case down for trial accordingly The justice fixed the date of the trial for August 1

DR. AUSTIN SHUEY DIES VERY SUDDENLY FRIDAY

Passes Away at His Home Down at Prospect.

ACUTE INDIGESTION IS CAUSE OF DEATH

The Doctor Complains of Not Feeling Well Friday Morning—Walks Out into His Yard and Then Returns to the House—Shortly After He Is Cold in Death.

Prospect, O, June 30.—[Special]—Dr Austin Shuey, a prominent physician of this place, died suddenly of acute indigestion at his home on Water street this morning at 11 o clock

Yesterday, Dr Shuey motored to Marion with his family and returned to Prospect in the evening He complained of not feeling well This morning he was not much improved He walked into the back yard and then into the house and laid down A short time later he was dead

Dr J W McNiel, who attended him a short time before he died, states that death was caused by heart disease brought on by acute indigestion

Dr Shuey was born in Center county, Pennsylvania, October 6, 1859, graduated at the Eclectic Medical institute Cincinnati in 1890, and came to Radnor a short time following his graduation In 1893, he moved to Prospect, where he has since been located He is survived by a widow, whom he married in Pennsylvania, and two children, Miss Vida Shuey, of Toledo, and Hoy Shuey, of Prospect

At the time of Dr Shuey's death Mr and Mrs H K Hoy of Pennsylvania, parents of Mrs Shuey, were visiting at the Shuey home

The deceased was a member of the Masonic and Modern Woodmen lodges of this place

SOLEMNIZED IN THE MEMORIAL CHURCH

Is Wedding of Miss Mabelle Seckel and Mr. Hostetter.

Caledonia, O, June 30.—[Special]—Miss Mabelle Seckel and Mr Charles Hostetter were united in marriage at the Memorial M E church, Thursday afternoon at 4 o clock The ring ceremony was performed by Rev C A R Edgington in the presence of the immediate families only of the young people The wedding march was played by Mrs Edgington, and the bride and groom were attended by the bride's brother and his wife, Mr and Mrs Wesley Seckel

The bride, who was a member of the graduating class of 1911, looked very sweet in her graduating dress of white embroidery She wore a picture hat with white plumes, and carried a bouquet of white roses

Immediately after the ceremony, the young people left for Galion, and upon their return they will reside with the groom's parents, Mr and Mrs John Hostetter, of near Martel

Mr and Mrs Hostetter are very well known in this vicinity where they have many friends The groom is a farmer

The guests at the wedding from a distance were Miss Carrie Seckel, of Galion and Miss Mayme Murphy, of Marion

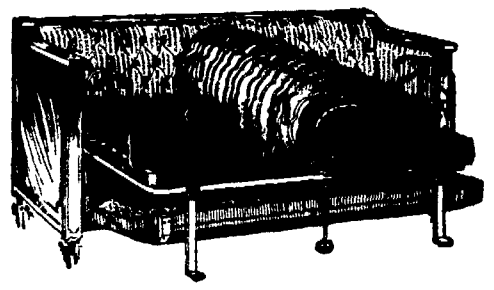
DAVEN-O



Now is a good time to buy a Daven-o. With one of these most convenient pieces of furniture, you can have a luxurious bed in the coolest room in your house and at the same time have a Davenport that no one would suspect contained a bed. The chances are that if you haven't as good a spring and mattress on your bed you'll either regret very much to go back to it or you'll want to buy a new spring and mattress. For rooms that are not large enough for a Daven-o we have the 20th Century Bed, which is the approach to the Daven-o. It is a Divan 4 ft., 9 inches long when closed and a very comfortable bed when open.

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOLS HOLD A BIG GATHERING

The Picnic at Lincoln Park Is a Success.

THOUSANDS ENJOY PLEASURES OF THE DAY

Time Is Given to Various Picnic Diversions—Fireworks Display Is Given in the Evening—A List of the Winners in the Various Contests—Two Addresses Given.

The Marion County Sunday-school picnic at Lincoln park, Tuesday, was a success, and thousands of men, women and children sought a temporary relief from the excessive heat under the big trees of the park. Although the temperature hovered in the neighbrhood of 100 nearly the entire day, yet hundreds of people drove in from all sections of the county and nearly every school in the county was represented. Many of the town people waited until evening and then took their suppers to the park and enjoyed the magnificent fireworks display. Nearly 5,000 people were on the ground in the evening.

The storm that passed over sections of the county early in the afternoon cooled the air for a short time and the sun remaining under a cloud during the remainder of the afternoon made the heat less oppressive and the affair more enjoyable. The evening was ideal. No accidents happened during the day.

The Auto Parade.

Ten cars entered the automobile parade which started from the central fire station at 9 o'clock in the morning. All the cars were decorated with flags and the W. C. T. U. car was decorated in red and blue. The procession drove out the Caledonia pike to meet the Caledonia band, which furnished music for the day and evening. Accompanied by the band, the parade moved up Center street to Olney avenue, south on Olney avenue to Church street, east on Church street to Main street and north on Main street to the park.

At noon, basket picnics were enjoyed in all parts of the park, and family gatherings were many.

About 1 o'clock, the races were begun. After a number of races an intermission was held and the crowd assembled around the pavilion, where Rev. R. C. Edgington, of Caledonia, president of the Marion County Sunday-School association, delivered an address. This was followed by a talk on temperance by Mrs. Lucy E. Van Kirk, of Granville, who is here this week in the interest of the Blue side of the local W. C. T. U. membership campaign. A chorus of twelve children from the Waddel Children's home sang and the Caledonia band played.

Races Are Resumed.

The races were then continued until evening, after which the prizes were awarded by R. E. Rowlands, one of the committee. As soon as it was dark enough balloons were sent up and a fine program of fireworks afforded entertainment in the evening.

The prizes awarded were as follows:

Boys' Foot Race—Six to eight years, Jennings Poland, box of bon bons, Lower's pharmacy; eight to ten years, Joseph Boyd, ball bat, Thibaut & Mautz; ten to twelve years, Charles Crouso, postal album, Charles Schmidt & Company; twelve to fourteen years, Fayman Fox, baseball glove, Haberman Hardware company; over fourteen years, Charles Crouso, tennis slippers, Smart & Waddell.

P. F. FOREMAN IS PROMOTING THE LINE

Traction Line To Connect Marion and Mt. Gilead.

A citizen of Marion was in Mt. Gilead to take up with this people, through those who understand the situation in regard to affairs relating to traction line proposals, some plan through which Mt. Gilead might be able to tie up with Marion in an enterprise that would give more direct communication with each other by way of a railroad constructed for gasoline motor cars, and at the same time give to the rich country between the places an opening that would be greatly appreciated and liberally patronized. The gentleman from Marion is P. F. Foreman, who is quite anxious to do what he can to promote the enterprise. He is well known, not only here, but in Marion, his home city, where he has for years served as a county official, first as deputy treasurer for four years and then as treasurer for four years. He is in a position to give his attention to promoting the proposed traction enterprise, and is anxious to have a conference with those who have been most directly interested in this matter which has been long discussed. He expects to arrange for a conference soon, at which there may be devised some plan for a Marion-Mt. Gilead traction. Conditions on Thursday were not favorable for such a meeting, and he departed with the intention of soon returning. In company with Mr. Foreman was C. E. Miller, also of Marion, who drives and is interested in the sale of the Cadillac automobile.—Mt. Gilead Union-Register.

WILLIAM R DIEBOLD DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Death Is the Result of a Lingering Illness.

LEAVES A WIDOW AND ONE DAUGHTER

Mr. Diebold Is a Veteran of the Spanish-American War and Sees Hard Service in the Philippine Islands—Three Sisters and Three Brothers Living—The Funeral.

Word was received here, Tuesday, announcing the death of William R. Diebold, which occurred at his home in Los Angeles, California, Monday evening at 5 o'clock. Death was due to tuberculosis, but not until lately did the victim show signs of the disease, which he contracted while a member of A company, of the Nebraska volunteers, with which company he enlisted and fought in the Spanish-American war. His company was one of the first in the conflict and was stationed in the Philippine islands.

The deceased was born and raised in this city and is very well known here. When he felt the effects of illness about nine years ago, he moved to California, going into the grocery business at that place a short time later. For a time his condition was bettered, but the disease had gained too firm a hold on him and death conquered. Mr. Diebold would have been thirty-five years of age next December.

The deceased is survived by a widow and one daughter, aged seven years.

Three sisters and three brothers also survive. They are Mrs. William Ballentine, Mrs. Joseph Schneider and Charles Diebold, of this city; Mrs. Louis Fies, of Portland, Oregon; Fred Diebold, of Shelten, Cuba, and Jacob Diebold, of Alaska. As no word has been received regarding the arrangements for the funeral, it is thought probable that the remains will be buried in Los Angeles.

AN ANNUAL REUNION OF THE PETRYS FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harris Host and Hostess.

The second annual reunion of the Petrys family was held, Tuesday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harris, of Short street. The pleasant affair was also in celebration of the birthdays of David and Charles Petrys.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Stewart, of Mansfield; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McHenry and David Petrys, of Bucyrus; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Petrys, of Nevada.

The reunion next Fourth of July will be held at the home of Charles Petrys, of Nevada.

Flowers are being lavishly used on dance dresses for girls.

ELEMENTS RAGE OVER SECTIONS OF COUNTY

Marion Misses Storm That Visits Other Points.

CITY REAPS BENEFIT IN A COOLING WAVE

Waldo, Prospect and LaRue Get a Thorough Dampening — Not a Great Deal of Damage Done—The Experience of a Party of Picnickers Along the Banks of the Scioto.

A cool wave that was decidedly welcome to sweltering Marionites came up from the South following a storm in the vicinity of Waldo and Prospect, Tuesday afternoon, and did much to relieve them from the extreme heat. About 11 o'clock, in the morning, the mercury reached the 101 mark, the highest of the season and the extreme temperature continued until the storm about 1 o'clock when the cooling waves and the clouds shutting off the blistering sun rays, caused it to fall very perceptibly.

Marionites failed to get a drop of rain to ease matters here, but at Waldo and Prospect and near LaRue there was a heavy downfall of rain and not far from Prospect there was some hail. Considerable lightning accompanied the storm.

Trees Blown Down.

A heavy wind blew several trees down and did considerable damage, but nohing of a serious nature. The lightning struck many trees and telephone poles and several phones were put out of service.

The southbound car on the C. D. & M. leaving about 1 o'clock had an air-pump burned out by lightning not far from Prospect. Passengers were badly frightened, but none was injured. As a result of the damage to the car there was considerable delay in the traffic.

Various reports were circulated over the country regarding the storm and it was rumored that LaRue had been almost completely wiped out by a cyclone. A brisk storm passed through the village, but no damage was done.

An Experience.

"No, George, they're not squaws; they're civilized Marion folks who have evidently fallen into a river; gone bathing with their clothes on or, perhaps, tried out the Newport smart set's idea of taking a walking Turkish bath on a hot day."

The above conversation was heard in the public square, Tuesday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock, as an interurban car deposited its load of Marionites returning from Newman's, where the Marionites had gone to shake off the heat of the city and enjoy the coolness along the banks of the Scioto. The remarks were brought forth on account of the appearance of the crowd—it really did resemble a party of Indians. The men of the crowd were bedraggled-looking, down-cast would-be Izaak Waltons; the women and girls were bedecked in bed-quilts, blankets, old coats, tablecloths and almost anything that could be used or borrowed to cover their water-soaked dresses. For one of the worst rain and electrical storms in years passed over the immediate section of Newman's just as the spreads were laid for a feast of Fourth of July delicacies, Tuesday. A terrific wind swept spreads, dishes and baskets into the choppy old Scioto; fishing poles were left sticking in the muddy banks, and men, women and children scampered for huge oaks or protection beneath bending elms and sycamore.

Raging Elements.

The elements simply toyed with the desires of the picnickers for a dry spot and in a few minutes all were soaked to the skin, almost drowned, as it were; rats, puffs and curls, umbrellas and parasols—inside out—hats and wraps were scattered over the fields and tossed into the river. The storm not abating, the sorrowful-appearing, rain-dripping, excited picnickers made a grand rush for the nearest house. The thunder roared and the lightning flashed. An ugly-looking barbed-wire fence impeded the path of the Marathoners, the fence had to be crossed or gone through. Through it was the quicker way, thought John Herschey, of the Walton crew, and he held two wires apart so as to permit the women to crawl through. But he miscalculated the maneuvers of Jove and a bolt struck a wire. Herschey was hurled aside and the women fell to the ground in their fright. None was hurt, however, and soon the bunch was under the roof of a friendly farmer.

Cars were delayed by the storm, but the first one rolling in the direction of Marion was boarded and the embarrassment of the picnickers was all the more keen when they found no rain had fallen in Marion, and it was hard to convince public-square onlookers that some one had not "rocked the boat."

Losses Suffered.

W. P. LaRue, a farmer north of LaRue, had a horse killed by lightning. Another horse owned by Jesse Imbody, a farmer west of Green Camp, was also killed by lightning.

The barn of J. L. Canouse, on the Canouse farm, south of Agosta, was unroofed by the strong wind, causing $300 damages.

Dennis O'Connell's barn on his farm south of Agosta was struck by lightning and slightly damaged. Three horses in the barn at the time were killed. He estimated his loss at several hundred dollars.

STARTLING DIVORCE FIGURES PRESENTED

Eighty-Four Actions for Divorce Brought in Year.

DECISIONS GIVEN IN EIGHTY-TWO CASES

Thirty Divorce Cases Are Still Pending in the Courts—Some Facts Gathered from the Judicial Statistics Compiled by the County Clerk for the Year Ended June 30, 1911.

Startling divorce figures are disclosed in the annual report of the judicial statistics compiled by County Clerk W. W. Klinefelter for the year ended June 30, 1911. Eighty-four actions for divorce were brought during the year and eighty-two cases were decided.

For the year ended June 30, 1910, sixty-four actions for divorce were brought and sixty-seven cases decided.

The number of divorces still pending, June 30, 1911, was thirty, and the number pending, June 30, 1910, was thirty-three.

Out of the eighty-four cases brought last year, fifteen decrees were granted husbands on the following grounds:

Adultery, three; absence and neglect, twelve. Not a husband was denied a decree and three petitions filed by husbands were dismissed on motion of the plaintiffs.

Disappointed Wives.

Forty-seven disappointed wives were granted decrees, one was refused and sixteen petitions filed by wives were dismissed on their own motions. The grounds on which the wives were given decrees were:

Adultery, two; absence and neglect, twenty-nine; cruelty, fifteen; drunkenness, one.

Only ten wives were granted alimany, but the ten received a total of $10,325. Custody of children was granted to five husbands and thirteen wives.

No fines were assessed. The total costs taxed in crimes against the person amounted to $1,383.88 and the total costs taxed in crimes against property was $58.28, making a total of $1,442.16. Of this amount $689.70 was taxed against defendants.

Civil Judgments.

The total number of civil judgments rendered was 288, as follows:

Number for money only, forty-five; amount, $30,791.43; number in which money is included other than above, 243; amount, $7,725.45; total amount adjudged due, $38,516.88; average amount of each judgment, $134,08; number of final decrees, 288.

The total number of civil judgments rendered for the preceding year was 319 and the total number of final decrees was the same.

In grand jury fees a total of $341.55 was expended as against $436.50 for the previous year. The total amount expended in petit jury fees in civil cases was $1,458.60 and the total amount expended for the same purpose during the previous year was $1,988.55. The total amount expended for petit jury fees in criminal cases was $379.25 as against $561.20 for the previous year. The total amount spent in jury fees during the year was $2,-179.40 and the total amount expended during the previous year was $2,-986.25.

Sent to Penitentiary.

Three were convicted and sent to the penitentiary during the year, one for criminal assault, one for robbery and one for pocketpicking. Others indicted either were acquitted or received jail or workhouse sentences.

Twenty-five inquests were held, as follows: Homicides, two; suicides, two; accident, five; unknown, sixteen.

HARRY DORFE FOUND ON PROSPECT STREET

Young Man in Stupor Finally Loses Consciousness.

HE ASKS TO BE TAKEN TO THE BROOKS HOME

Dorfe Has a Quarrel with His Sweetheart and Is Found Some Time After the Quarrel—He Is Unconscious Until Wednesday Morning—Is Now Out of Danger.

Following a quarrel with his sweetheart, seventeen-year-old Nannie Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Brooks, No. 641 north Prospect street, Tuesday evening about 6 o'clock, Harry Dorfe, twenty years old, was found in a stupor at the gate entrance to the Aronhalt lot on north Prospect street three hours later. He asked to be taken to the Brooks home, and was removed there in the Hess & Markert ambulance.

The young man soon lost consciousness. Drs. W. S. Mattox and J. B. Taylor were called. Dorfe was given a hypodermic injection. He regained consciousness next morning at 3 o'clock. When a reporter called at the Brooks home at 9 o'clock, Mrs. Brooks declared that Dorfe had gone to the home of a sister on Oak street. She did not know the sister's name.

"Harry said he had drunk something from a bottle that had dope in it," Mrs. Brooks said. "The dope made him deathly sick. He's been going with my daughter since last January. Both of them work at the silk mills. Nannie wanted him to stay for supper, but he said that he was here for dinner and wouldn't stay for supper. I didn't know they had quarreled. If they did, it wasn't serious."

Mrs. Brooks declared that Dorfe did not drink and expressed the opinion that he was doped.

Dorfe would not say who gave him the dope and talked ramblingly about some young men. He returned to work at the silk mills Thursday.

Overcome by Heat.

Fred Jones, a carpenter, residing on west Church street, was overcome by the intense heat in the Fahey bank on north Main street, Wednesday at 2:45 o'clock. He soon recovered, however, and was taken to his home.

SOME HOT WEATHER FOR RESIDENTS OF THE CITY

Warmest Fourth of July in Great Many Years.

RECORD FOR SEASON SHATTERED TUESDAY

The Mercury Climbs to Ninety-Six Degrees Wednesday and the People Suffer Much—A Steady Rise in Temperature Throughout the Day—Record in Periods.

With the temperature at 101 shortly before 11 o'clock, Tuesday, Marion suffered the warmest Fourth of July in years and the warmest day of the season. Not in many years have local people suffered so intensely from the heat and many of the older residents of the city recalled hot days, but few were hotter than that of Tuesday. At 10 o'clock in the morning, the mercury had reached the 100 mark and at just 10:45 it reached the record mark for the season.

Very fortunately, following the storm south of here the temperature lowered somewhat and a bearable temperature prevailed during the early. Many slept out of doors, but were compelled to get indoors about 2 o'clock next morning, when the temperature dropped to seventy-five degrees. This was the lowest during the night. At about 8 a. m., Wednesday, the temperature was eighty degrees. All day the heat was severe, but was much more moderate than during the past few days.

A daughter was born, Monday afternoon, to Mr. and Mrs. William H. Pace, of Edward street.

A son was born, Wednesday, to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Culp, of Leader street.

BIG FEATURE OF THE BASEBALL CARNIVAL

An Electric Fountain of Wonderful Beauty.

One of the big features of the J. Frank Hatch water circus and allied shows which are to furnish the attractions for the baseball carnival to be held on Prospect street next week, is the LaRose electric fountain, a spectacular production in which fire, water and electricity are scientifically blended into a series of beautiful tabeaux.

Over 1,700 small streams of water which are tinted by electricity with all the colors of the rainbow are woven into a many-colored glittering fabric of fire and water which serves as a background for a group of beautiful models, posing in reproductions of the old masters, also executing, costume and spectacular dances.

The performance will close with a beautiful and extensive fireworks display in the midst of a cataract of cascading water. This was a feature attraction at the expositions held in Omaha, Nebraska, Buffalo, New York and Nashville, Tennessee, but has never been shown at fairs or carnivals before, and is the only attraction of it's kind in America.

Another entertainment that is sure to please Marionites is the "Human roulette wheel." This is not a gambling device, but a new kind of riding gallery which has been in operation at Atlantic City.

AFTER EIGHT YEARS HE RECEIVES HIS FEE

Justice Charles E. Gompf Is Given a Surprise.

Eight years ago, Justice Charles E Gompf sold a fine driving horse to Mrs. Susie Kuhnheim, of Columbus. A short time following the sale, Mrs. Kuhnheim's husband Frank Kuhnheim, brought an action for a divorce in the Franklin county common pleas court. Kuhnheim at the time was worth in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Mrs. Kuhnheim replevined the horse bought from Justice Gompf, who was summoned as a witness. He refused to go to Columbus, but gave his deposition. The Kuhnheims finally were divorced and Mrs. Kuhnheim was given the horse on the ground that she had bought it with her own money. Afterward the Kuhnheims became reconciled and remarried. Last fall they went to California to pass the winter. Mrs. Kuhnheim received a scratch on the hand and died of blood-poisoning three days later.

Now here comes the odd part of the story so far as Justice Gompf is concerned. Thursday, he received a letter from James Lindon, law partner of John J. Lentz, of Columbus. The letter told him of Mrs. Kuhnheim's sudden death and stated that his witness fee of seventy-five cents of eight years ago was found to be one of the valid claims against her estate, which the attorney was settling up. A check for seventy-five cents was enclosed.

FORCIBLE DETENTION SUIT IS THE SEQUEL

Fight in Court Follows a Fight with Fists.

Following the fight between Elias Firstenberger and his tenant, Jacob Wipfler, Tuesday, Mr. Firstenberger, Wednesday afternoon, served a notice on Wipfler to vacate the farm premises in Richland township, a forcible detention proceeding having been brought by him in the court of Justice Charles H. Conley. Firstenberger claims that he rented the farm to Wipfler on a verbal contract with the understanding that he was to move at any time they were unable to agree.

This spring the owner and the tenant had some trouble and this was followed by the Fourth of July scrap, when, it is alleged, Firstenberger accused Wipfler of stealing hay and Wipfler called Firstenberger a liar. The hearing on the action in forcible detention will be held before Justice Conley in the near future

BEAUTIFUL LAWN IS SCENE OF PLEASURE

Meeker Epworth League at McElvy Residence.

DELIGTFUL EVENING PASSED BY COMPANY

Little Harker Thomas Is Relieved of a Safety Pin Which Is Lodged in His Throat Since Last October. Result of a Fit of Coughing. Meeker Notes of Past Week.

Meeker, O, July 7.—[Special.]—The festival held the evening of July 4 on the beautiful lawn of C. H. McElvy by the Epworth league was a decided success. The grounds were beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns. The waiters at the ice-cream and lemonade stands did a rushing business. The evening was beautiful, the crowd large and orderly and nothing occurred to mar the pleasures. The McElvy lawn is an ideal place for a festival and a more beautiful and picturesque place could not be found.

Harker, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thomas, swallowed an open safety pin last October. It lodged in his throat. The child for months complained of his throat and surgical attendance availed nothing. Saturday of last week, he was seized by a violent fit of coughing, in which the child almost strangled to death. In this paroxysm the pin which was imbedded in the lower part of the throat, was dislodged. The child is in a serious condition, but improvement is noticed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Emmons are making an extended visit with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ford, of LaRue.

George Davis was a Marion visitor Tuesday.

An election was held at the M. E. church, Sunday, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the conference. M. E. Virden was the choice for delegate and Mrs. Effie Brown for alternate.

OBITUARY.

Gorton—Martha Annetta Gorton, another of the fast-going pioneers of Marion county, died at the home her daughter, Mrs. Frank Maass of west Church street at 2.20 o'clock, June 26, 1911 She had been ill about one week, during which time she passed through a surgical operation in a vain attempt to prolong her life. She rallied nicely from the operation and was able to recognize her friends for a time, only to become slowly weaker until death, caused from peritonitis claimed her. Martha Annetta McWherton, daughter of William and Jane McWherter, was born at the old McWherter home north of Marion, August 6, 1838. Her entire life was spent in this county. She was the last surviving member of a family of six children, two brothers and three sisters. She was united in marriage to Wallce J. Gorton, June 1, 1858, her husband dying April 8, 1882. To this union were born six children, three of whom survive as follows: W. J. Gorton, Mrs. Frank Maass, and Mrs. Perry G. Shotts. Six grandchildren also survive: Mrs. Fred McWherter, Mrs. George Essex, Mrs. Don Delbert, Edna Ruth Maass, Dorothy and Helen Shoots, all of Marion. Funeral services were held at the Maass home at 4 p. m., June 26. Rev. George M. Rourke officiating. The remains were laid to rest in the Marion cemetery. * * *

RICHWOOD HOLDS BIG CELEBRATION TUESDAY

Hundreds of Visitors Pass the Day in Village.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM OF HARNESS RACES

A Ball Game Is Played by Teams of Marysville and Richwood—A Lamp Explodes at Home of Henry Orens and Causes Small Blaze—Notes of the Past Week in Village.

Richwood, O., July 6.—[Special.]—The big Fourth of July celebration held here, Tuesday, was a decided success. Hundreds of strangers were here and, despite the intense heat, all enjoyed the big attractions planned for their amusement. In the morning, an interesting game of baseball was played by Marysville and Richwood, at Varuna park. In the afternoon, an immense crowd attended the races at the fairgrounds There were four events, a 2:23 trot, 2:17 pace, 2:35 trot and a 2:25 pace. Almost forty horses were entered for the various races, which were pronounced by many the best ever held on the local track. The purses were $240 each and each event was hotly contested. Excellent music was furnished by Johnson's Military band, of Marion.

An alarm of fire was sounded, Monday evening at 8 o'clock, a lamp having exploded in the residence of Henry Orens, of Beem's addition The fire department soon extinguished the blaze, the damage being slight.

Mrs. Addine Laughey died, Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Otis Fuller, of Fulton street, with whom she had resided for several years. She was born July 18, 1842, being almost seventy years old at the time of her death. The deceased had been in ill health for several years, suffering of a complication of diseases. Funeral services were held from the Fuller home Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. J. R. Lloyd, of the Presbyterian church, officiating. The remains were taken to Ostrander for interment.

While driving to Sunday-school at Finley M. E. church, northwest of Richwood, Sunday morning, Mrs. Henry Hoxworth and Miss Mary Hines had an exciting experience with a runaway horse. The animal, being badly frightened, upset the buggy, throwing both occupants to the ground. Miss Hines' right arm was broken between the elbow and shoulder and Mrs Hoxworth was severely bruised all over the body. Dr. H. C. Duke was called to render surgical aid.

AN INTERPRETATION OF THE ONE-PER-CENT LAW

Local Officials Proceed According to Their Lights.

MARION RECEIVES A BIG ADVANCE DRAW

The City Gets $10,000 and the Board of Education Is Ready To Receive an Advance Draw—The View of the Situation Taken by County Auditor Allen.

While efforts are being made by state officials satisfactorily to adjust matters in the situation created through the finding of a Columbus city solicitor that no appropriations could be made at present under the Smith one-per-cent. law, because the money to be distributed was not in the county treasury, Marion county officials have gone ahead and interpreted the law in their own way.

Already the city of Marion has received an advance draw of $10,000 and the board of education is also ready to receive a big advance draw.

The Smith law apparently says that no change can be made in appropriations after they are once announced and finally acted upon and that no part of the appropriation can be paid until the entire amount is in the county treasury.

County Auditor Charles L. Allen believes that supplementary appropriating is not an infringement of the Smith law, but a new allowance entirely. In other words, he believes that such money as is on hand can be appropriated, and that as soon as the June collection of taxes is made available, additional appropriations may be made.

It is understood that the county auditor is backed up in this view of the situation, which is disturbing many Ohio cities, by members of the state tax commission.

A FITTING CELEBRATION OF FOURTH AT MORRAL

Fireworks and a Program of Band Music.

REFRESHMENT STANDS ARE WELL PATRONIZED

The Village Is Donated Its Pleasures by a Merchant—Miss Ruth Ferguson Entertains a Company of Her Little Friends at Her Home at Morral—Village Notes.

Morral, O., July 6.—[Special.]—The glorious Fourth was fittingly celebrated here in the afternoon and evening. A ball game between the Morral High school team and a team from Little Sandusky, resulted in a score of eleven to ten in favor Little Sandusky. The fireworks in the evening were the finest ever seen in Morral. The band was a very special feature of the evening's entertainment. The Young Ladies' class of the Methodist Sunday-school had charge of the refreshments and the way the immense crowd patronized the refreshment stand and tables goes to show that a goodly sum was realized which will be used to help purchase a piano for the church. Mr. Ballinger, of Plain City, proprietor of a store here, was the donor of the fine fireworks. He also secured the services of the band for the evening.

George Miller, of LaRue, spent several days last week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T A. Richards.

Dr. and Mrs. J W. Jolley spent the Fourth in Richwood.

Mr. C. M McClain and son, Robert, of Marion, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C E Stouffer, from S nday until Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Mills and sons, of Detroit, have returned to their home after a visit with Dr. and Mrs J. W. Jolley

Mrs. Ada Latimer, of Detroit, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Crim. Harry Crim, of Marion, was also a guest at the same home, Sunday

Mrs. Henry Clinger is quite sick, suffering of heart trouble

Mr. and Mrs J W Campbell, of LaRue; Mrs. F J Schultz, Mrs Blanch McPherson and Mrs. Amanda Huff of Marion, were Morral visitors, Thursday. The party attended the Bibler reunion at Brush Ridge

Miss Mayme Lupton, of Caledonia, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. H. A Martin and other relatives

Miss Hazel Cottrell visited from Sunday until Tuesday with Miss Mabel Neiderhauser near Upper Sandusky. Miss Neiderhauser accompanied her home Tuesday morning and spent the Fourth here

Mrs Geogre Drake attended the funeral of Mrs Annetta Gorton in Marion Wednesday.

Mrs O. Washburn Mrs. J. L. Bender, Mrs. P. E. Lawrence and little daughter, Sarah Catherine, and Mrs. Sarah Taylor were visitors in Marion Wednesday.

The Misses Lila, Dude and Goldie Stump, of Marion, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs F H. Wiley, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Weist and little daughter, Thelma, spent Sunday in Toledo, making the trip in their automobile.

Mrs C F. Ritter left, Wednesday, for a three weeks' visit with her parents in Kansas City.

Mr and Mrs. E. E. Newland and fmaily, of near Harpster, were guests of Mr and Mrs S C. Baker, Sunday. In the evening when preparing to start home, their horse became frightened and started to run. Mr Newland was the only occupant of the buggy. He was thrown out and the buggy was badly damaged Mr Newland escaped unhurt.

Mr. and Mrs J. P. Alkire have moved here from Marion and are occupying the flat over Arthur Wiley's place of business.

Miss Ruth Ferguson entertained a number of little friends in honor of her sixth birthday anniversary, Wednesday afternoon. The little folks enjoyed a merry afternoon w childish games and pastimes. N refreshments were served.

JURY DECLARES DIEGLE GUILTY

After Being Out Since Last Friday Night.

DIEGLE ACCEPTS THE VERDICT VERY COOLLY

New Trial Will Be Demanded at Once.

Senators Huffman and Andrews Take Verdict More Seriously Than Does Convicted Man—Diegle Now Faces One to Five-Year Term in Prison. He May Tell All and Be Freed. How the Jury Stands.

Columbus, O., July 3.—Rodney J. Diegle, senate sergeant-at-arms, was convicted, today noon, by a jury in criminal court of aiding Senator L. R. Andrews, of Lawrence county, to solicit and accept a bribe of $200, April 28 from Detective Frank Harrison Smiley, in connection with the Cetone-Whittemore fire insurance bill. The jury had been out sixty-six and one-half hours.

Diegle, his wife and daughter, Patrice, nineteen, who were in the courtroom when the verdict was returned, took the decision coolly. Not a tear was shed. Diegle rocked back and forth in a chair while Clerk Paul R. Good read the verdict, his face expressionless. Mrs. Diegle and her daughter stared hard at the jury. Gaynell Clark, three, the flaxon-haired niece of Diegle, who has romped about the court-room during the entire trial, laughed childishly.

The penalty for Diegle's crime is from one to five years in the penitentiary, a fine not to exceed $500, or both. Attorney John A. Connor, who was the only member of Diegle's counsel present when the verdict was returned, immediately announced that he would file a motion for a new trial within three days. Diegle is out on $10,000 bond.

Senators Isaac E. Huffman and L. R. Andrews, who are jointly indicted with Diegle in the dictaphone cases, were present when the jury came in. They showed more signs of nervousness than any one present. Huffman swirled his hat on his finger nervously and Andrews tore into fine bits a newspaper he was reading, his eyes on the floor.

How Jury Stands.

Diegle never had a chance to be acquitted, according to Clerk White, of the jury. The first ballot taken Friday night, when the jury retired, was eight to four for conviction, he said. It hung there for another vote and then switched to nine to three for three straight votes. The sixth vote, taken Friday night before they retired, brought the odds around to ten to two.

At this point, it hung until Saturday afternoon, when the other man joined the majority and Foreman John M. Walcutt alone held out for acquittal. He tenaciously clung to his opinion until this morning when he was persuaded by his colleagues to have the testimony concerning the transactions in room, No. 317, Chittenden hotel, reread to him.

The jury resumed their seats in the box this morning at 9:10 o'clock and listened for an hour and one-half to the testimony of Detective Smiley, Stenographer Walcutt and Senator Andrews. The jury then retired and cast one ballot more—all had agreed. The bell connected with the jury room tapped at 11:50 and at 11:55 Diegle knew the verdict.

Diegle had little to say, except that he had been done an injustice. He expressed great confidence in the higher courts. His wife and daughter did not appear much worried. "Well, we're glad the strain is over," they remarked.

Although Prosecutor Turner refused to confirm it, a rumor was started immediately after the verdict was returned that Diegle would be let off with a fine if he would take an "immunity" bath and tell the grand jury all he knows.

Asks for Instructions.

Columbus, O., July 3.—At 9:20 this morning the Diegle jury asked Judge Kinkead for additional instruction on the dictaphone evidence, the telephone conversation alleged to have taken place between Detective Smiley and Senator Cetone and the alleged conversation between Senator Andrews and Smiley.

*Judge Kinkead ordered the testi*mony of Stenographer R. R. Walcutt, as to what he heard over the dictaphone and the testimony of Detective Smiley as to his conversation with Senator Andrews, read to the jury from the court records. The jury then retired for further deliberations.

Twelve tired, but determined men, *in whose hands lies the fate of Rod*ney J. Diegle, senate sergeant-at-arms, charged with aiding Senator L. R. Andrews to secure a bribe, dragged themselves to the court-house this morning to continue their deliberations. At 9:30 o'clock they had been out just sixty-four hours, the case reaching them at 5:30 Friday night.

The length of time which has been consumed by the jurors in attempting to arrive at a verdict is unprecedented in Franklin county. The action of Judge Kinkead in sending them back at 11 o'clock, Saturday night, for further deliberation, after Foreman J. M. Walcutt had decisively announced that there was no possible chance of coming together, is also unprecedented here.

The jurors this morning appeared ready for another hard day's work. Several took the situation good-humoredly and struck up "We're Here Because We're Here, Because We're Here—," as their four bailiffs led them back to their room.

Suspense Is Telling.

To assist them in their deliberations, the jurors have before them a copy of the indictment upon which Diegle is being tried; a copy of the indictment which Detective Smiley admits was returned against him in Chicago in connection with the Marie Diefenbach case; the note which Andrews acknowledges he wrote to Smiley and a copy of the court's charge.

Although no news of the way the men are divided can be authoritatively obtained, both sides claim that the long deliberation is in their favor.

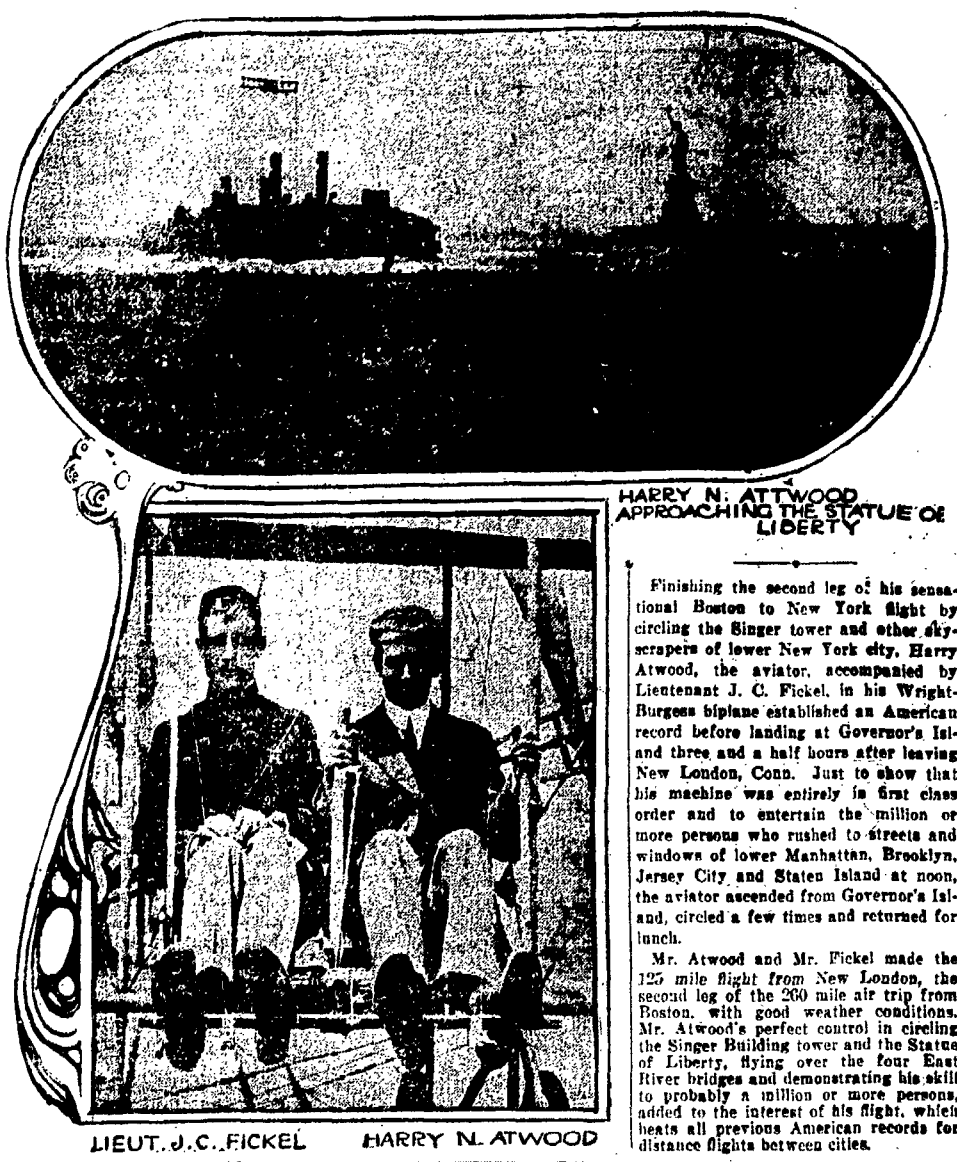
The terrible suspense is beginning to tell on Diegle. He keeps up a bold front and tries to dismiss care by joking, but the lines of worry are plain upon his face. His wife and daughter, Patrice, both expressed themselves as anxious to have "it over with," and know the result.

The greater part of Sunday was spent by the jurors in the commodious rooms at the Southern hotel. The men were allowed newspapers with every reference to the Diegle trial of other bribery cases cut out.

It seemed clear that the jury wanted to determine the time of Andrews' visit to the Chittenden hotel and whether Smiley had time to dupe the dictaphone after Andrews left, as the defense claims he did, by altering his voice to represent both himself and Senator Andrews, also to determine what credence to place on the testimony of Smiley and Andrews on these points.

The reading of the testimony occupied an hour and one-half, the jury retiring for further deliberations at 10:50 o'clock.

MAKES RECORD FLIGHT FROM BOSTON TO NEW YORK, CIRCLING SINGER TOWER AND STATUE OF LIBERTY



HARRY N. ATTWOOD APPROACHING THE STATUE OF LIBERTY

LIEUT. J. C. FICKEL HARRY N. ATTWOOD

Finishing the second leg of his sensational Boston to New York flight by circling the Singer tower and other skyscrapers of lower New York city, Harry Atwood, the aviator, accompanied by Lieutenant J. C. Fickel, in his Wright-Burgess biplane established an American record before landing at Governor's Island three and a half hours after leaving New London, Conn. Just to show that his machine was entirely in first class order and to entertain the million or more persons who rushed to streets and windows of lower Manhattan, Brooklyn, Jersey City and Staten Island at noon, the aviator ascended from Governor's Island, circled a few times and returned for lunch.

Mr. Atwood and Mr. Fickel made the 125 mile flight from New London, the second leg of the 260 mile air trip from Boston, with good weather conditions. Mr. Atwood's perfect control in circling the Singer Building tower and the Statue of Liberty, flying over the four East River bridges and demonstrating his skill to probably a million or more persons, added to the interest of his flight, which beats all previous American records for distance flights between cities.

ELEVEN FLIERS CROSS CHANNEL

Remarkable Flights Made in England.

VEDRINE FIRST MAN TO REACH DOVER

Others Follow the Frenchman Every Few Minutes.

The Eleven Aviators Make Flights Across English Channel in Such a Matter-of-Fact Sort of Way and with Such Ease the Processions Is Almost Lacking in Interest—The Prizes Reach $100,000.

London, July 3.—Two years ago this month, when Louis Bleriot made the first trans-channel aeroplane flight, the whole world gasped in amazement.

Today, eleven aviators made the same flight, made it in a matter-of-fact sort of way and with such ease and precision that the hours procession over the channel was almost lacking in interest. Not only did these flyers cross the channel, but most of them continued on to Hendon, six miles north of London, completing a trip of ninety-three miles from Calais.

The aviators who thus added themselves to the channel flyers' *roll were Vedrine, Vidart, Kimmer*ling, Conneau, (flying under the name of Beaumont); Valentine, Garres, Renaux, Train, Gibert, Tabuteau and Barra.

They were competing in the sev*enth stage of the European circuit* race. Vedrine was first to cross the channel, arriving at Dover at 4:39. For the next hour there was an arrival, either at Dover or some point on the English coast every few minutes.

*Renaux crossed with a passen*ger. Gibert made the speediest trip over the churning stretch of water, thirty-seven minutes and fifty-seven seconds. The distance was about twenty-four miles. There was a special prize for his feat. Vedrine was also first at Hendon, winning a prize of $14,500. This makes him winner in four of the seven stages.

Crowd Greets Fliers.

An enormous crowd greeted the flyers at Hendon, Grahame-White being the first to congratulate them. The flights were so lacking in incidents and were of such railway-travel accuracy that the enthusiasm of the crowd soon expended itself.

Emile Train, whose machine struck and killed War Minister Berteaux at the start of the Paris-Madrid race, was forced to descend at New Haven, between Shoreham and Dover, owing to mechanical trouble. For the same reason Gibert had to alight near Dorking and Barra and Renaux near Eastbourne. None of the mishaps were at all serious. All except these reached Hendon.

Prevost was the only flyer at Calais who did not cross the channel. An injury to his machine prevented him from making the flight.

The European circuit race began June 19, in a flight from the Vincennes aerodrome near Paris, to Liege. Successive stages were from Liege to the Spa and return to Utrecht, to Brussels, to Roubaix, to Calais. The remaining stages will be back to Calais and thence to Paris. The total distance will be about 950 miles and the total prizes nearly $100,000.

Previous Channel Flights.

July 19, 1909—Hubert Latham, dropped into water within sight of Dover.

July 25, 1909—Louis Bleriot, first to cross English channel. Flew from Sangatte, France, to Dover.

May 21, 1910—Count de Lesseps, Calais to Dover.

June 2, 1910—Hon. C. S. Rolls, Dover to Calais and return without a stop. Was later killed when his aeroplane fell with him.

August 4, 1910—John B. Moisant, from Ameins, France, to Dover, with his mechanician. First to cross channel with a passenger. Was later killed near New Orleans.

December 21, 1910—Thomas Sopwith, Dover to Calais.

December 23, 1910—Cecil Grace, crossed Dover to Calais and was returning without stop when lost his way near English coast in the fog and was never heard of again.

ENDS LIFE IN THE BROOKLYN NAVY YARD

Lieutenant Prefers Death to Disgrace Known to But Few.

New York, July 4.—Some circumstance which was known only to himself, Commander J. W. Oman of the gunboat Tacoma and a few officials of the navy department at Washington, and which was likely to draw punishment upon him, impelled Lieutenant Thomas L. Osborne, senior engineer officer of the Tacoma, to commit suicide in his quarters aboard ship in the Brooklyn navy yard. He shot himself through the head.

THE COTTON REPORT IS ISSUED MONDAY

Condition of Crops June 25 Shown by Report.

Washington, July 4.—According to the cotton report issued by the department of agriculture, yesterday, the condition of the cotton crop, June 25, was 8.2 per cent. of normal, as compared with 87.2, May 25, 1911; 80.7, June 25, 1910, and 80.0 the average of the past ten years on June 25.

Advance Follows.

New York, July 4.—An advance of eighteen points followed heavy buying of cotton as the result of yesterday's government crop report.

Suicide or Joke, Which?

Bellefontaine, O., July 4.—A local bank cashier received a $10 note on which was penned in red ink: "The last of many. So long, old scout; it's the river for mine." Police found after a search the clothes of a man on the banks of a stream near here. Search for the body has so far been unsuccessful.

HOOSIERS HEAR THE PRESIDENT

Taft Talks of Arbitration on Indiana Tour.

HE ALSO DISCUSSES CURRENCY REFORM

He Considers This Matter of Great Importance.

President Tells Veterans at National Soldiers' Home That Two and Possibly Three of Uncle Sam's Wars Could Have Been Prevented by Arbitration—Dwells Long on Peace Treaty of Country.

Marion, Ind., July 4.—Arbitration and currency reform were the subjects chosen by President Taft for his addresses in this city.

He was the guest of the town of Marion in particular, but all Indiana joined in the welcome. Enthusiastic crowds greeted him at every station along the route of his journey, and he was interrupted in his work on his speeches every little while by calls for a speech. He made short addresses at half a dozen places from the platform of his car and chatted with the people who gathered to greet him at every stop. The heat was intense, the thermometer in the president's car registering 100 degrees. Mr. Taft, however, stood it remarkably well.

As to currency reform, Mr. Taft spoke plainly in support of Mr. Aldrich's plan and urged a careful consideration by all classes of men as "the most important of these very important issues—reciprocity, arbitration and currency reform." This address was before the Marion bankers and editors.

Talks to Veterans.

In an address before the Marion National Soldiers' home on arbitration he declared that at least two and possibly three of the five wars in which this country has engaged could have been avoided by arbitration; pointed out five instances and made partial claims for others in which the United States, by urging arbitration, had prevented war between South American countries. Urged ratification by the senate of the proposed Honduran and Nicaraguan treaties as helpful to the establishment of stable governments in those countries, and ended with a reply to Colonel Roosevelt's criticism of arbitration of questions involving national honor, that a country should not bind itself to a future acceptance of a tribunal's decision in cases where a people's enraged senses would prevent their abiding by the court's award by saying that "I can see no reason why we may not have moral courage enough in spite of our impulse to the contrary, to submit such questions to an impartial tribunal and await its judgment."

PARENTS AND BABE IN DRUNKEN STUPOR

Columbus Police Officer Makes Terrible Discovery.

Columbus, O., July 4.—Father, mother and a four-year-old son in drunken sleep, and a six-months old baby, crying in its mother's arms as she lay in torpor on the floor, were found by Patrolman Buck, at 4:20 Sunday afternoon, when he went to the home of James Cavlear, No. 205, Stevens street, on complaint of neighbors.

Cavlear was found intoxicated in the front room and lying near him on the floor was his four-year-old son in a drunken stupor. In a back room, the patrolman found Mary Cavlear, the wife, in a drunken sleep with a six-months old baby crying in her arms. The entire family was taken to the city prison, where the mother, the boby and the baby were cared for by the matron. Cavlear and his wife will be presented for trial in the juvenile court as soon as their condition permits.

FAMOUS KANSAS POET IS DEAD

Eugene F. Ware Passes Away at Cascade, Colorado.

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 3.—Eugene F. Ware, "Ironquill," the famous Kansas poet, United States pension commissioner under President Roosevelt, and one of the best-known lawyers in the West, died suddenly, from heart disease, Saturday night, at Cascade, a summer resort several miles west of this city.

In addition to his widow, Mrs. Jeannette Ware, and daughter, Miss Amelia Ware, the only members of the family with him in Colorado, he is survived by two older daughters, Mrs. Dr. Neiss, of New York City, and Mrs. Ralph Nelson, who lives in Idaho.

A married son, Eugene F. Ware, Jr., aged twenty-six, recently gave up the practic of law to settle with his father on his big farm near Fort Scott, Kansas. The body will be taken to Fort Scott, where the funeral will be held Wednesday.

LADY CONSTANCE JILTS HER FIANCE AT ALTAR

Fashionable Adriane Waits in Vain for Wedding.

London, July 3.—At the last minute, today, after one of the most most fashionable audiences ever seen in St. Peter's church, Eaton square, had gathered to witness her wedding to the Rev. H. Hawkins, Lady Constance Foljambe, daughter of the late Earl of Liverpool and sister of the present earl, changed her mind and decided not to marry her fiance. The Earl of Liverpool this evening received a message from his sister, which read:

"I am quite safe. I changed my mind and d not wish to be married. I left London by train at noon."

It is believed that the discrepancy in the ages of the bride and groom, twenty-six and forty-eight, respectively, was responsible for Lady Constance's sudden change of mind. When he learned that his fiancee had jilted him, Hawkins, who had been waiting at the church with his best man and ushers, broke down and wept. He had to be assisted to his home.

TAPS SOUND FOR GENERAL EVANS

Clement A. Evans Passes Away in Atlanta Home.

Atlanta, Ga., July 3.—After lingering at death's door for nearly a month General Clement A. Evans, formerly Commander-in-Chief of the United Confederate Veterans, died at his home in this city Sunday afternoon of Bright's disease. He was seventy-nine years of age.

Evans death was not unexpected. Arrangements for the funeral were not announced.

General Evans has been confined to his home since the first of last April. He was born in Stewart county, Georgia, in 1833, and came to Atlanta to make his permanent home in 1889, when he was appointed Presiding elder of the Griffin district in the North Georgia conference of the Methodist church.

At the time of his death General Evans still was a member of the North Georgia conference, holding the office of treasurer of the Preachers' Aid society.

General Evans was elected commander-in-chief in 1908 and served two years, declining to accept re-election on account of his health.

Evans was then elected honorary member of the organization to be accorded that honor.

SEE DEFENSE HITS STATE HARD BLOW

Mother of High Priestess Takes Stand in "Charmer's" Behalf.

Chicago, July 4.—A severe blow to the state's case was landed, yesterday, when Mrs. Felicia Rees, mother of Mona Rees, high priestess of the "Absolute Life," swore that she, and not Evelyn Arthur See, the "God Man," wrote every line of the notorious "Book of Truth" on which the state based its allegation that See taught the doctrine of free love to his neophytes.

The opening of the See trial was featured, yesterday, by the reading by the defense, of several letters from Stephen H. Bridges, wealthy jeweler, to his daughter, Mildred, high priestess in the cult, and projected "mother of the perfect race." These letters by which the defense Bridges' belief that his wife and daughter thought no more of him than they did of a "yellow dog," and added that he would spend his life trying to put See behind the prison bars.

Mrs. Rees then took the stand and in her efforts to shield the "Prince Charmer," swore she wrote every line in the "Book of Truth" from revelations from God, exactly as Joseph Smith wrote the Mormon Bible. The state all along has contended that See *wrote this book to instill the doc*trine of free love in the minds of his girlish followers.

In explaining the "light and symbol of mystery," Mrs. Rees declared there was no such thing as shame in "Absolute Life."

Former Police Chief Killed.

Chillicothe, O., July 4.—Patrolman Gilbert Rieder, 45, former chief of police, was shot and killed by his brother-in-law, Charles Gilsdorf. Officer Rieder had gone off duty and sat down in a neighbor's yard when Gilsdorf took Rieder's own gun, stepped up and shot him three times. Gilsdorf then barricaded himself in the house and fired at other officers who attempted to arrest him. Officer Southworth shot Gilsdorf and the arrest followed. He is not dangerously hurt. No cause is assigned for the crime, as Rieder has been good to the man and gave him a home.

GERMANY'S ACT RAISES PROTES

France Unable To Comprehe Agadis Incident.

PAPERS DEMAND QUICK RESPONS

Stress Laid on Downfall Monis Ministry.

Recent Movements of Spaniards Morocco Should Have Been noticed, Declares the Temps—English Press Excited and Bubbling Over with Adjectives at Kaiser Action—Germany Scored.

Paris, July 3.—French politicians are asking each other whether Germany's sudden move against Aga is not comparable to the v made by the kaiser to T gier which preceded the Algeci treaty. MICHIGAN LAD RETAINS BELT

Ad Wolgast Has Owen Moran at His Mercy.

HE RUSHES FIGHTING FROM FIRST ROUND

Wolgast Is Shown To Be Great Battler.

Contest for Lightweight Championship Never in Doubt, as British Scrapper Is Outclassed at Every Stage of Game—Rallies in the Twelfth, Only To Be Put to Sleep in Thirteenth.

San Francisco, July 5.—In less than half a minute after the thirteenth round had started, Ad Wolgast of Michigan put the finishing touches to Owen Moran, the English challenger, and retained the world's championship for lightweights.

The Michigan lad simply outclassed Moran in every round. There was never a time that there was any doubt of the outcome. Moran's blows lacked force and he was worried at all times in landing. Wolgast was simply too great a fighter. He is a wonderful fighting machine and is without doubt the greatest little ring man of his weight.

Blows Weakened Moran.

The blows which put Moran out were clean to the stomach, and there was nothing close to a foul committed. Wolgast had Moran up against the ropes and hammered away with five body blows which took the steam and wind out of Moran. Although Moran claimed a foul, all the blows were above the belt. Moran indulged in foul tactics, used his elbow and butted Wolgast with his head.

Wolgast's body blows wore Moran down and weakened him. His style of coming in covered up also had Moran puzzled. Wolgast put up an entirely different attack against Moran than he did against Frankie Burns. He opened up but little and gave Moran practically no chance to do any boxing. The bout was very interesting because of the marvelous work displayed by Wolgast. He covered his face with his left glove, and with his right arm free came in with a crouch. Only once did Moran succeed in reaching him as he rushed in. If Wolgast missed with his right he clinched and hammered Moran over the kidneys or uppercut him with his right, whipping the glove around with lightning quickness and bringing the blood every time from Moran's nose or mouth.

The Englishman did his best scoring in the eleventh and twelfth rounds just before his defeat, but what punches he landed had no effect. This was evident from the whirlwind style in which Wolgast closed the battle.

Crowd Jeers Wolgast.

The crowd, always in sympathy with the under dog, jeered Wolgast and called encouragingly to Owen, who apparently was making a stand in those two rounds.

"Just wait for the next round," Tom Jones called back, in answer to hisses for the champion. "He'll finish Moran in the next round and that ought to satisfy you."

Nor had the groans which greeted this announcement fairly died away before the Britisher lay stretched on the canvass, writhing in agony from body blows and listening to the count that spelled his defeat.

No more vicious onslaught has been seen in the boxing game for many a day than that last spurt by Wolgast, who evidently was of a mind to wait no longer. In the previous rounds the champion had given an idea of his aggressiveness and his punishing powers, but it remained for him to add strength to his showing.

HOLDS GREEN LAW IS CONSTITUTIONAL

Hogan Renders Opinion Regarding Women's Work Hours.

Columbus, O., July 5.—Attorney General Hogan held, today, that the new Green law, limiting the hours of working girls and women to fifty-four a week, is constitutional, and he has advised State Factory Inspector T. P. Kearns to enforce it.

Many employers over the state raised the cry that the law was unconstitutional, but Hogan gives it as his opinion that it will stand the tests of the courts.

State Factory Inspector Kearns will instruct all his inspectors, more than twenty-five in all, to investigate carefully the working conditions surrounding girls and women, with a view to discovering whether any employers are violating the new law.

The Green law provides that no woman or girls shall be employed in any factory, workshop, telegraph or telephone office, restaurant, millinery or dressmaking establishment, more than fifty-four hours in any one week, nor more than ten hours in any one day. Employers are required, also, to provide suitable seats, where practicable, for employes and to keep their work places sanitary.

Attorney General Hogan, in finding grounds for holding the new law constitutional, relies largely on a decision of the Oregon supreme court, holding a similar law in that state constitutional.

ONLY 24 DEAD ON THE FOURTH

Smallest Number of Casualties Ever Reported.

SAFE AND SANE IDEA MUCH IN EVIDENCE

Last Year the Death Roll Is Enormous.

This Year 881 Are Injured; Last Year 2,729 and in 1903 Over 400 Are Killed and 3,983 Injured. President Taft's Appeal for "Sane Fourth" Lends Strength to Appeals of Campaigners.

Chicago, July 5.—Figures compiled, today, show that the safe and sane Fourth movement brought forth fruit yesterday in the smallest number of casualities ever recorded in American history.

Only twenty-four persons were killed and 881 injured, compared with 131 dead and 2,729 injured in 1910 and 466 dead and 3,983 injured in 1903.

In nearly every town and city where the use of explosives by citizens, privately, was forbidden, there were no accidents reported. In other cities, where there was permitted a discharge of fireworks and firearms under certain limitations, there was a decided falling off in the number of dead and injured.

President Taft's appeal for a safe and sane Fourth was an added official endorsement which lent strength to the appeals of the campaigners for a rational observation of the nation's birthday.

And the "safeness and saneness" of the day did not lessen the enjoyment. In nearly every community, there were parades, meetings, band concerts, displays of fireworks under municipal control; and other features which gave patriots all the chance they wanted to celebrate the day.

Cairo, Illinois, headed the list of the "unsafe" cities with three dead, while New York was second with two dead. Nineteen other cities reported one dead each. San Francisco and Washington, alone of the cities where the sale of fireworks absolutely was prohibited, reported any injuries, two persons being hurt in each of those cities.

Record in Gotham.

New York, July 5.—New York's safe and sane Fourth of July has come to stay. There was only one death in Greater New York yesterday directly attributable to fireworks and such forms of celebration. One lad was shot and killed, but the police believe today this was a case of murder.

Compared with 1909, the last unsafe and insane Fourth, the record is as follows:

1909—Three deaths, 321 injured, four fatally injured, forty injured by stray bullets and gunshot wounds, 111 fires; 1911—One death, eighty-five injured, none fatally injured, twenty injured by stray bullets and gunshot wounds, thirty-three fires.

Success in Boston.

Boston, July 5.—Boston's safe and sane Fourth was a success. Only two accidents resulting from the celebration were reported.

Last year twenty-eight accidents occurred and in 1909 the fourth celebration resulted in 114 accidents.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Porter, of Wilson avenue, Wednesday morning.

EIGHT HURT WHEN SKYROCKETS LET GO

Lancaster's Sane Fourth Marred by Serious Accident.

Lancaster, O., July 5.—During the fireworks display given by the local lodge of Elks in the public square, a box of skyrockets, ignited by sparks from other fireworks, exploded, causing a panic in which eight persons were seriously injured and others suffered minor hurts.

The victims of the accident all live in Lancaster and were taken to their homes in ambulances. It is not believed any will die, unless complications result. The accident caused a panic, and the most of the injuries were due to this fact.

The display was in charge of a Mr. Lippincott, who is regarded as an expert in the manufacture and handling of fireworks. This is the first accident he has had in 30 years. Lippincott's clothing was burned, but he was unhurt. The accident marred a day otherwise free of casualty, and came almost at the close of the pyrotechnic program. There were no firecrackers or other explosives used during the day, and the program consisted of races and a balloon ascension.

The injured are: Mrs. George Crult, will lose an eye; Viola, 9-year-old daughter of E. E. Mettler, leg broken; infant daughter of Frank Sunderman, arm broken; August Hattendorf, leg broken; son of Nathan England, aged 12, both legs and arms badly burned; Mr. Moore, hands burned; J. N. Binckley, hands burned; Mrs. Fannie Shellenberger, leg broken.

Hospitals Are Full.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 5.—Judging from the list of maimed and burned and otherwise injured persons in the hospitals, it was a good old-fashioned "unsafe and insane Fourth of July" here. In spite of all the propagandizing by those interested in spreading the safe and sane doctrine, the firecrackers cracked, the toy cannon cannonaded to the usual tune and the inevitable harvest of eyes put out, fingers blown off, severe burns and probable later developments of lockjaw as the outcome. The number of injured registered in city hospitals is well over 300, with several persons lying near death and many others maimed for life.

Will Lose Hand.

East Liverpool, O., July 5.—Exploding in his left hand, a cannon cracker blew off two fingers of the left hand of Samuel Moore, a clothing salesman, formerly of Portsmouth. Amputation of the hand will follow.

Cretonne-covered shoe boxes are very handy. They come provided with pockets for as many as a dozen pair of shoes or slippers.

WITHERING HEAT COVERS COUNTRY

Chicago Suffers Much from Old Sol's Rays.

THE TORRID WAVE SMITES NEW YORK

But a Timid Breeze Lessens the Suffering.

More Than 120 Deaths Are Officially Charged to Heat in Windy City, While in Gotham Sixty-Four Have Succumbed in Past Four Days, Little Relief Is in Sight, According to Weather Bureau.

Washington, July 5.—"Material relief" from the intense heat was promised by the weather bureau, today, for the middle and northern plains states, and the upper Mississippi valley and for interior New York and New England. The lake region and the Ohio valley may expect relief tomorrow.

"Elsewhere over the eastern half of the country, temperatures will not change materially," declared the official forecasters with sad faces for that 'elsewhere" includes them personally.

Terrible in Chicago.

Chicago, July 5.—Chicago entered today upon the sixth day of withering heat with the prospect that before night she will have encountered the hottest day in the thirty-one year history of the local weather bureau. At 9 o'clock the mercury registered ninety-three degrees, two degrees hotter than at the same hour yesterday. Yesterday the thermometer registered 102 within one degree of the hottest ever registered in Chicago.

At the weather bureau it was announced that 104 or 105 was expected by 4 o'clock this afternoon. No relief was promised before Friday, and even that was indefinite. A temporary local thunder shower may come this afternoon, though the bureau admitted that the prospects for rain were so vague as to hold out little hope.

More than 120 deaths have been officially charged to the heat, while physicians declare the infant mortality, directly attributable to the heat, has gone up to staggering figures.

Flock to Parks.

The nights have been nearly as hot as the days, so that sleep has been impossible. At 3 o'clock this morning, usually the coolest part of the day, the mercury officially registered ninety degrees.

According to the weather bureau, atmospheric history does not contain a record of so severe a heat spell as that which is sweeping the Middle West. The condition has existed since June 13, and although there have been a few cool days since then in the main, the weather has been abnormally hot.

It is estimated that 750,000 persons slept—or sought sleep—in Chicago's vast parks last night.

Government guaged thermometers on the street level during yesterday ranged from 104 to 107.

At the weather bureau, today, the official forecast was for continued warm today and tomorrow.

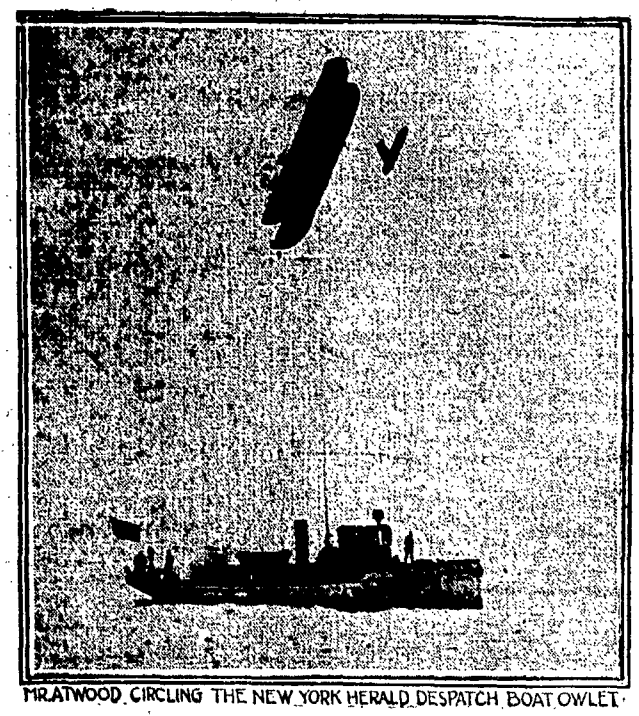
HARRY ATWOOD IN SPECTACULAR FLIGHT IN NEW YORK BAY THRILLS THOUSANDS.



MR. ATWOOD CIRCLING THE NEW YORK HERALD DESPATCH BOAT OWLET.

After a series of spectacular and nerve testing flights, in which he volplaned almost to the surface of the bay at angles that frequently caused thousands lined on the Battery shore of New York, New Jersey and Brooklyn to believe that his machine had collapsed and that he was falling to his doom, Harry N. Atwood circled the Statue of Liberty with a passenger for the first time in history. The feat was accomplished in clever fashion. The aviator showed remarkable daring by soaring above the torch at a height of only five feet. He swept around it in circles, rose and fell, and then shot to Governor's Island, where he made a graceful landing while the thousands of onlookers cheered and the whistles of boats tooted.

New York Smitten.

New York, July 5.—"Sprained, but not broken," was the diagnosis today on the torrid wave that has smitten New York since Saturday.

The mercury dropped only a few degrees from yesterday's markings, but the humadity was much less and a timid breeze crept out of somewhere and lessened the suffering.

Thirty-two victims succumbed yesterday, bringing the death toll for the first three days of the sweler to sixty-four. In addition, there were nearly 300 prostrations yesterday and scores today.

Added to all this, there were twenty drownings. More than 100 persons also suffered injuries while attempting to escape from the heat.

At 9 o'clock, today, the official temperature was given as eighty, three degrees under yesterday. On the streets, however, the thermometers registered from ten to fifteen degrees higher.

Temperature Rises.

Des Moines, Ia., July 5.—With a temperature of ninety degrees at 9 o'clock this morning, the indications are that the heat record of the day will be close to that of yesterday when the mercury officially reached 103, the hottest since 1901 when all previous records were broken and the corn crop partially ruined.

Potatoes and small fruit will be only half a crop. Pastures are as dry as the Congressional Record, and the price of butter is going up in consequence. The hay and oats crops are short, but the corn is still standing up manfully and with one good rain would be out of immediate danger.

Finishing Touches.

Pittsburg, July 5.—Roasting, parboiling heat waves today are putting the finishing touches to a twenty-four hours of torridity which resulted in seven deaths from the heat direct, three drownings caused from attempts to escape from the heat, and twenty-five prostrations.

The temperature, this morning, reached a minimum of eighty degrees, and is still mounting. The weather bureau predicts 100 degrees for this afternoon, which will exceed yesterday's mark only by a fraction. That's official temperature on the skyscraper tops. In the street by the government kiosk the temperature hovers around 103.

Corn Crop Uninjured.

Omaha, Neb., July 5.—The heat of the past few days has not yet injured the Nebraska corn crop. The small grain is now being harvested and shows a good yield. Taking the average yield of the state at 100 per cent., crops experts figure that the corn crop shows 102 per cent. Rain nevertheless is needed and unless it comes soon the crop will begin to burn. The heat wave here has been terrible. Eight persons have been killed during the eight days of sweltering.

A boil may come to a head even when located elsewhere.

BIG COMBINE IS DISCUSSED

Steel Men Gather at Conference in Brussels.

JUDGE GARY MAKES NEW PROPOSITION

Chairman Would End Ruinous Competition.

Main Purpose of Conference Is the Formation of an International Iron and Steel Institute Aiming at Ultimate Control of Prices and Operations and World-Wide Steel Trust, Eliminating Competition.

Brussels, July 5.—A conference of leading representatives of the steel industry of the world, having for its object a "gentleman's working agreement," and presided over by E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, began a two days' session here today.

The main purpose of the conference is the formation of an international iron and steel institute aiming at an ultimate control of prices and operations, a word-wide steel and iron trust, along the lines of the eliminating all competition.

The proposition for this gigantic combination was made at the conference, today, by Judge Gary. The object, he declared, was to prevent the destructive fluctuation of steel prices and maintain a business equlibrium in the world's steel industry.

"Ruinous competition" and "price-cutting," between the big steel and iron interests in the different countries, control of production and world-wide regulation of prices through cooperation, were the subjects discussed today.

The initiative for the calling of cthe steel congress was taken by the American Steel & Iron institute.

One of the principal questions before the congress is whether such a world-wide combination can be formed without falling under the ban of the law. It is argued by some of the American representatives, however, that being an international organization, no country can declare it to be illegal.

PRISONER KILLED IN A JAIL CELL

Arizona Officials Are Stirred Over the Crime.

Globe, Ariz., July 5.—The authorities are searching for the persons who murdered Kingsley Olds, the prospector, as he lay in his cell here awaiting trial on the charge of murdering Lulu and Myrtle Goswick in the Salt river, near here, on June 24.

The fatal bullet was fired from a rifle resting in the county judges' room of the courthouse, only 30 feet from Olds' cell. The slayer entered the courthouse by using a skeleton key, pushing the muzzle of the rifle through a window screen near Olds' cell. He rested the barrel on the window ledge and fired a bullet through Olds' heart. Before the sheriff and jailer reached the scene, the murderer had escaped.

Olds was arrested June 24, after the bodies of the two Goswick children had been found in Salt river. He alleged that he was bathing in the river when a Mexican shot him in the jaw and then assaulted and drowned the two girls.

For afternoon wear steel is preeminent. It is procurable in galons, buttons, fringes and embroidered stripes. It is used on hats, coats, dresses and slippers.

PRESIDENT HAS STRENUOUS DAY

Reviews an Immense Parade at Indianapolis.

HE TALKS TO UNION RAILROAD MEN THERE

And Witnesses Collision of Two Engines.

Taft Also Attends Track Meet, Shakes Hands with Hundreds of Hoosiers, Dines with Republican Club, Takes Auto Ride and Winds Up with Ringing Speech on Reciprocity Before Marion Club.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—Under a burning sun that sent the mercury in the thermometers hung outside stores up past the 105 mark, President Taft spent his Fourth with the city of Indianapolis. He reviewed the hour parade of floats; held an open handshaking reception for the Hoosiers; lunched with and addressed the Columbia club, a Republican organization; attended a track meet; urged a sane Fourth in the teeth of open opposition in the way of cannon crackers exploded behind the grandstand which he faced; awarded prizes to the winners in the float pageant; witnessed motorcycle races; talked to a couple thousand railroad union men and saw their exhibition of two locomotives sent into each other pell-mell at a speed of some 30 miles an hour; addressed the Marion Republican club on reciprocity, and barely completed his program in time to catch a train for Washington. It was one of the most strenuous days that Mr. Taft has ever been through. But despite the heat he seemed to keep his energy and good humor up to the top notch all day long and made a great many new friends in the Hoosier state.

Shakes Hands With People.

From the parade Mr. Taft went to the Marion club and shook hands as the people streamed by him, his collar melting, but his smile rising, and Major Butt kept at his work calling out the names of the people as seriously and energetically as though he were stoking a furnace. The afternoon was a bit less strenuous. An auto ride was inserted in the program as a rest for Mr. Taft, and it rained just a little while he was out, which cooled things off some. His address to the railroad men was short but he referred to railroad union men as the best element of union labor, which was all they seemed to want and they cheered him loudly.

In his reciprocity speech he answered the charge that his Canadian reciprocity bill does not represent the true Republican idea of reciprocity. He premised his speech with the statement that "the Republican policy of protection has suffered material modification since it was first adopted as a plank of the party's platform."

In this connection he said: "Extremo protectionists insisted that it made no difference how high duties were on articles, products or merchandise that would compete with those of our own country, provided they were high enough to prevent competition altogether. The argument was that by competition between our own people there would be found a sufficient stimulus for the reduction of the cost of production and the reduction of the price, so that behind the tariff wall we would enjoy low prices."

Considers Local Benefits.

Mr. Taft considered the relation of Indiana to Canadian reciprocity, claiming benefits for it by the remission of duties on food products, fish, lumber, gypsum, building stone and other articles in purchasing and in selling, a benefit by the Canadian market for vegetables and fruits, agricultural implements and motor vehicles and brick. He then continued:

"I am most earnestly hopeful that the Canadian reciprocity will pass the senate and will be confirmed by the Canadian parliament. I am hopeful of this, not for political reasons, because the responsibility and the credit for it will not be wholly with any one political party. The Democrats of the house and senate should have their full measure of praise for its adoption should it become a law. I am for reciprocity because I believe it will stimulate a trade between Canada and the United States that may grow to enormous proportions, to the mutual benefit of the two countries and to the detriment of no interest in either."

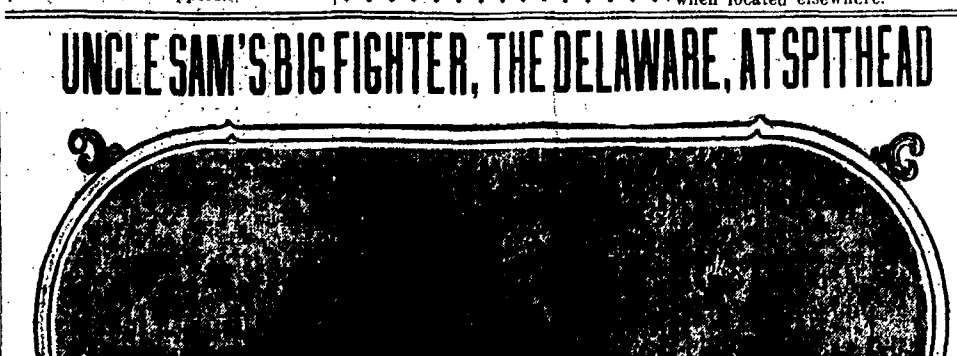
While the parade was passing the president's stand a spent bullet struck Mrs. Harry D. Tutweiler, wife of the chairman of the parade committee, who was sitting in a stand adjoining that of the president. Mrs. Tutweiler was struck in the leg and was painfully but not seriously hurt. The velocity of the bullet had been expended and Mrs. Tutweiler pluckily remained in the stand throughout the parade. Few people knew of the incident and it caused no excitement.

JOINED IN MARRIAGE BY JUSTICE GOMPF

Mrs. Ethel Booth and Mr. John H. Keller.

Mrs. Ethel Booth and Mr. John H. Keller, both of this city, were united in marriage by Justice Charles E. Gompf, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. They will make their future home on Silver street.

UNCLE SAM'S BIG FIGHTER, THE DELAWARE, AT SPITHEAD



THE U. S. S. DELAWARE AT SPITHEAD.

The big United States battle ship Delaware, finest of Uncle Sam's fighting craft, was the centre of attraction at Spithead during the coronation proceedings and naval review. It is expected that the proud ship will return shortly for a gunnery test. The accompanying picture shows the battle ship all decorated for the big show abroad.
